Hitchcock Genealogy.

THE HITCHCOCK FAMILY HISTORY, which has been so long promised, is now ready and will be given to the printers as soon as 150 copies at $5.00 a copy, shall have been subscribed for.

The volume will contain 600 or more pages, and will trace the family in its two branches from Matthias of Watertown, Mass., and East Haven, Conn., and of Luke of Wethersfield, Conn., from 1635-1886.

Various attempts have been made to find the English home of the family, but, as yet, these attempts have not been successful.

Of the records which we have, the family has no reason to be ashamed. While as a whole the family have occupied the humbler walks in life, we have many whose names are not unknown to fame.

Col. Daniel Hitchcock, who after the battle of Trenton was thanked by Washington for his bravery in the presence of the whole army.

Rev. Enos Hitchcock, a fearless preacher, Chaplain in the Revolutionary Army.

Com. Robert B. Hitchcock. In 1862 commander and senior officer of the blockading fleet off Mobile in the war of the Rebellion.

Judge Samuel Hitchcock of Burlington, Vt., whose wife was a daughter of Gen. Ethan Allen.

Samuel J. Hitchcock, Mayor of the City of New Haven and founder of its Law School.

Judge and Chief Justice Peter Hitchcock of Burton, Ohio, also State Senator, member of Congress, also member of the convention to form the new constitution of the state of Ohio.

Among educators we have Rev. Henry Lawrence Hitchcock, President of Western Reserve College.

Roswell Dwight Hitchcock, President of Union Theological Seminary, New York.

Hon. Henry Hitchcock, President of St. Louis Law School, and Edward Hitchcock, President of Amherst College.

In one family we have the names of six who became missionaries in the foreign field.

Among those of Hitchcock descent, but of other names, we may instance the Trowbridges of New Haven, descendants of Matthias Hitchcock.

Grover Cleveland, now President of the United States, who is descended from Samuel and Ruth (Stebbins) Hitchcock of Westfield, Mass., and Charles Dudley Warner of Hartford, who is descended from the same pair.

If you will sign and return to Amherst the little slip which accompanies this circular, indicating the number of copies you will take, it will help us to decide how soon we may venture to publish.

INTRODUCTION.

This book, which is the genealogy of the descendants of only two of the Hitchcocks who early settled in this country, scarcely needs an introduction. The family seems to have been, and still is, a very numerous one in England, the "Wills and Administrations in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury" showing a list of 116 of this name between the years of 1590 and 1670. It would probably not be difficult to trace the ancestry back to England of the descendants of Thomas Hitchcock who at the age of 22 came to Virginia in the "Paule of London," or of the Thomas Hitchcock who with Alice his wife came to Virginia in the "Marygold" in 1624 and settled on Hog Island, or of the William Hitchcock who sailed in 1635 in the "Plaine Joan" for Virginia. But Matthias, Luke and Edward came and left no trail behind them. Probably they were men in the humbler walks of life. All attempts have failed to discover any trace of them previous to May, 1635 when Matthias at the age of 25 landed in Boston and settled for a short time in Watertown, Mass., from which place he soon removed to East Haven, Conn., where our history of the family begins. There he was joined by Luke and Edward as early as July 1, 1644 at which date they both took "Freemans oath" in New Haven. Matthias and Edward remained in East Haven and in this and the towns in the neighborhood of New Haven the descendants of Matthias settled for several generations. About 1645 Luke removed to Wethersfield, Conn., dying there in 1659 after which date his children removed to Springfield, Mass. and in this neighborhood the records of the earlier generations of his descendants may be found.

It may be of interest to state that the Hitchcock family is supposed to have come originally from the county of Wiltshire, England, where they were located from the time of William the Conqueror. The word "Hitch" is an old nurse name for Richard and "Cock" is the ordinary diminutive. "Anciently there were two families of Hitchcocks in Wiltshire that bore separate "coats of arms," one as follows :

"Armor, argent (silver), on a cross azure (blue) five fleurs-de-lis, gold, in the dexter chief quarter a Lion rampant, red. Crest, a castle, red, on the tower a Lion's head erased, in the mouth a round buckle, its mottoe "Esse Quod Opto."

The other one was "Armor, gules (red), a chevron, silver between three Alligators. Crest, an Alligator."

The Pedigree of these Wiltshire families can be found in the Harlean collection of the British Museum and may also be found in full in the "Visitation of the County of Wiltshire by Sir T. Phillips, A. D., 1623," and also in "Hoar's History of Wiltshire."

The aim of this book has been to preserve the records of a portion of the Hitchcock family so far as they could be secured from town and church records, records of Probate Courts and Registries of Deeds, and from family records where they have not differed too widely from each other. The records of thirty-eight different towns in Connecticut and Massachusetts have been personally examined, also those of a few towns in New York ; where these and family records disagree the preference has been given to town records, except where the old family Bible could be found ; in which case the Bible has been supposed to be correct.

No effort has been made to follow the descendants of Matthias or Luke after the name has been lost by marriage. The thanks of the family are due to Prof. Edward Hitchcock, Jr., of Cornell University, since he was the first to arouse an interest in the matter and he himself collected and arranged the earliest records of the family. Also to Mr. Peter M. Hitchcock of Cleveland, Ohio, to the Hon. Hiram, and Welcome G. Hitchcock of New York, to Mr. Calvin Hitchcock of Ware, Mass. and Mr. John and Miss Frances E. Hitchcock now Mrs. William D. Hunt of Boston for the financial aid, without which it would have been impossible to have carried on the work even imperfectly.

Mrs. Elroy M. Avery of Cleveland, Mr. O. B. Hitchcock of Binghamton, N. Y. and Capt. Calvin D. Cowles of Washington, D. C., have been untiring in their aid not only in making the records of their own families complete, but in the advice which they have given from their wider experience in such work.

The pictures which embellish the book have all been generously furnished by the descendants of the men whom they represent.

MATTHIAS HITCHCOCK,

OF WATERTOWN, MASS., AND EAST HAVEN, CONN., 1639.

MATTHIAS HITCHCOCK came from London to Boston on the bark "Susan and Ellen" in the spring of 1635. He was then 25 years of age. In Bond's History of Watertown is a "Record of Matthew Hitchcock a townsman then inhabiting," receiving, July, 1636, twenty-three acres of land in the "Great Dividends." This land he afterwards sold to D. Patrick. In 1639 his name appears in the records of New Haven, Conn., where he was among the original signers of the "fundamental agreement made on the 4th of the fowerth moneth called June, 1639." He was also one of the five purchasers of "South End Neck" now East Haven, Conn., where the five dwelt after 1651.

In Atwater's History of the Colony of New Haven, pp. 110-151, are found the following references to Matthias. His name is given in the schedule of Planters prepared before April, 1641, but found in the records of 1643. Three persons are numbered in his family. He is reckoned as having an estate of £50 and is given ten acres in the "First Division," two acres in the neck, four acres in the meadow, sixteen acres in the "Second Division," and his yearly rates for land are put at eight shillings.

"Jan. 4, 1647, Matthias Hitchcock for a wilful neglect to walk ye round when ye officers called him was fined 5 shillings."

"Nov. 7, 1648. He was too late with eight others in coming to trayning yesterday in the afternoon, but they said they was there before the bodye moved which as the Captain said was longer before it moved than it used to be, yet because it hath bine the usiall course to count no man late till the bodye hath been removed, ye court passed it by this time."

"Feb. 6, 1655. Matthias Hitchcock passeth over to John Wakefield his house and home-lot on the other side of the "West Creek."

From Colonial Records, p. 103, December, 1651.

“ William Andrews agreed & ordered that Richard Berkley (?) & Matthias Hitchcock, Edward Patterson, & Edward Hitchcock shall have the neck of land by the seaside beyond the cove, & all the meadow belonging to it &c—paying to the town one penny the acre for 500 acres to settle on it, not to dispose of it without the towns consent, if removed from the Plantation within a year to leave the land to the town.”

A volume of “Records of the Colony and Plantation of New Haven, 1638–1649” was published in 1857. A “Jurisdiction” was formed by the Confederation of the Plantations of Guilford and Milford with New Haven, the latter then including Stamford, Southold and Branford. This volume contains records of the Colony of New Haven while it remained distinct, the beginning of records of Jurisdiction (those from 1644–53 being lost), and of town or Plantation up to 1650.

Matthias had a brother as this record shows: “Nov. 2, 1642. Ct. (Court) ordered that Matthias Hitchcock shall either pay 20s to Mr. Perry, which he undertook in behalf of his brother, or else sell so much of his brothers goods as will satisfie the said debt.”

That brother was with hardly a doubt Edward Hitchcock. The two were fined about training, on the same day, Jan. 4, 1643; were granted land together Dec., 1651; and Matthias testified, April 5, 1659, as to what Edward said in his last sickness as to giving Elizabeth Perry a child's part. For account of Edward and some of his children see Appendix.

According to these records, Matthias Hitchcock was, Jan. 4, 1643, fined 1s. for coming late to training; March 7, 1643, fined 3s. 4d. for disorder in his watch. On March 10, 1646, seats in the meeting house were assigned to all, but no mention was made of either Luke or Edward. On Nov. 6, 1649, Matthias was fined for refusing to watch.

Matthias died Nov. 16, 1669, and Elizabeth his widow in 1676. An inventory of her estate, which consisted of her garments and some household stuff was taken June 6, 1676.

The will of Matthias, dated Nov., 1669, is as follows:

“ I Matthias Hitchcock being under the afflicting hand of God, & willing to set things in order, & to put my house in order.

“ I doe give the halfe of my two farms to my deare wife during her lifetime, & the other parts, yt is to say, the two halves of the two farms for John and Nathaniel to improve for their mother to ye halfe.

"I doe give to my son Eliaser two swine and a waggon, also I doe give unto my son Eliaser one acre of ground adjoining to Goodman Pattison's lott. I also give unto Eliaser one Hoarse.

"I doe also give unto Eliaser my son my first farme after my widows decease the two lots—I except, they are to go along with the other farme. At the entering those two farmes, & when ye sd sons do take possession the two farms are to pay twenty pounds ye year ten pounds a farme to be paid to Elizabeth.

"Nathaniel hath of his own proper estate already in possession, one mare one cow one heifer one calf.

"John hath of his own estate proper already in possession, one hoarse one hog one sow and one sheepe.

"Elizabeth hath already in possession of her proper owne, one hoarse hobby. All debts are to be payed out of ye stocke remaining & all ye stocks remaining after ye debts are paid are to be divided between my two younger sons and daughter.

"Within house all my movable goods & household stuff I give to my deare wife & daughter Elizabeth. All cartes and ploughs & tackling are for ye improvement of ye farm.

" Memoranda

"That ye two witnesses did express before they took oath yt the testators mind in these expressions about ye improvement of the two farms during his wifes lifetime were that his two sons John and Nathaniel should improve the whole two farms for their mother to ye halfe."

We consider Eliaser of the will to be the same as Eliakim of later records, for Dodd in his history of East Haven so states and Eliakim occupied the identical land.

DESCENDANTS OF MATTHIAS HITCHCOCK—BRANCH I.

ELIAKIM² HITCHCOCK (*Matthias*¹), son of Matthias and Elizabeth Hitchcock was born — and married, Nov. 4, 1666-7, to Sarah Merrick of Springfield. She was born in 1643, and was the daughter of Thomas Merrick or Mirick (the name is spelled both ways on the records), who came from Wales to Roxbury, Mass., in 1630 and removed from there to Springfield in 1636.

Vol. 3 of the New Haven Probate Records, which contained the papers relating to the estate of Eliakim Hitchcock, is missing, but an inventory of his estate was taken by John Thompson, May 29, 1704. This was signed by Thomas Hitchcock, administrator. A quietus was granted to Thomas, administrator on estate of his father Eliakim of New Haven, Feb. 3, 1706. Later, at a court held April 6, 1719, there was a division of the unadministered estate of Eliakim Hitchcock, amounting to £17-0-4, which the court ordered divided into eight equal parts, "whereof two shall be given to the eldest son and one each to the other Legatees," and at the same court there was a division apparently, (the record is nearly illegible) of land on the East Side valued at £418-10-0. Thomas received $4\frac{1}{4}$ acres, and Matthias, Hannah, Samuel, Joseph, John and Sarah $2\frac{1}{10}$ acres each.

THEIR CHILDREN WERE:

- i. JOHN³, b. Aug. 12, 1668; d. Oct. 24, 1668.
- ii. SARAH, b. Oct. 16, 1669; m. Jacob Robinson, weaver, and had sons: 1, John⁴ Robinson; 2, Thomas Robinson, and 3, Eliakim Robinson; also daughters, 4, Hannah Robinson, who m. Thomas Dawson, and 5, Sarah Robinson, who m.

- Samuel Bradley. Sept. 30, 1736, Thomas Dawson with his wife Hannah joined with the other heirs of her grandfather Eliakim deceased in a deed to her uncle John Hitchcock of all lands belonging to the estate of said E.H. lying in East Haven, and on Oct. 12, 1736, they released and quit claimed all right in the personal estate of Matthias and Hannah Hitchcock deceased. — New Haven Records, Vol. 10, pp. 268 and 448.
- iii. HANNAH, b. Mar. 19, 1672; never m. Her will, dated July 10, 1732, and proved Oct. 4, 1735, gave her property to her brother Matthias and to her brother Samuel's daughter.
 - iv. THOMAS, b. — 1674. An inventory of his estate was taken May 6, 1732, his brothers John and Joseph being administrators; the estate was divided into six equal parts, Matthias, John, Joseph and Hannah receiving one part each, and two parts going to the legal representatives of his brother Samuel and his sister Sarah Robinson.
 - 2. v. SAMUEL, b. Mar. 7, 1678; m. Mehitable Warner.
 - vi. MATTHIAS, b. Mar. 7, 1678; d. about Sept. 6, 1736. He was "afflicted with a falling sickness," and never m.
 - vii. ELIAKIM, b. Oct. 2, 1680. Dodd in his History of East Haven, says, that "Eliakim had two children," but I can find no trace of his marriage. An inventory of his estate was taken by John Thompson and Nathaniel Hitchcock, May 29, 1704. It amounted to £30-07, and his part of his father's estate £33-06." From New Haven Probate Records "1st Monday in April, 1710, a quietus was granted Thomas Hitchcock of South End adm. on the estate of his father Eliakim and his brother Eliakim, Jr., dec., he having shown agreement with Sarah, the widow of Jacob Robinson, Hannah Hitchcock, John H., Samuel H., and Joseph H."
 - 3. viii. JOHN, b. Nov. 1, 1683.
 - 4. ix. JOSEPH, b. July 23, 1686.

JOHN³ HITCHCOCK (*Eliakim*², *Matthias*¹) son of Eliakim and Sarah (Merrick) Hitchcock, born in East Haven, Conn., Nov. 1, 1683; married, Feb. 13, 1706-7, Elizabeth Jones of Springfield. She was daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth Jones, born Oct. 2, 1685, and died Jan. 2, 1769.

John bought land in Colchester, Conn., and settled there before his marriage. He was the collector of town rates in Colchester for the years 1713, 1714 and 1724. He must have returned to East Haven about 1735, where his daughter Hannah died, and then returned to Colchester, where he died May 22, 1754. Letters of administration were granted to Eliakim Hitchcock, June 18, 1754, upon the estate of Mr. John Hitchcock of Colchester, deceased; estate valued at £687-7-10. By his will he gave "his widow, her third of the house, the north front room, south front chamber, part of the linter, with a privilege in ye cellar, her third in land and money."

HIS CHILDREN WERE :

- i. ELIZABETH⁴, b. May 23, 1708; m. Dec. 22, 1727, Daniel Skinner. Her children were: 1, *Daniel*⁵ Skinner, b. Feb. 28, 1729; 2, Elizabeth Skinner, b. Mar. 22, 1733; 3, Sarah Skinner, b. - vi. SARAH, b. —; bapt. 1735; m. Apr. 24, 1748, to Charles Kellogg of Lebanon.

JOSEPH³ HITCHCOCK (Eliakim², Matthias¹) son of Eliakim and Sarah (Merrick) Hitchcock, born July 23, 1686, in East Haven, Conn.; married, 1st, Rebecca —, who died in 1750 and was buried in St. Paul's churchyard, Norwalk, where the headstone is still standing. He married, 2d, Jane —, who survived him. He died 1758. He purchased land in Norwalk as early as 1710 and continued to acquire property there until his death. On New Haven records he is styled, Joseph Hitchcock of Norwalk, Blacksmith. His name (and that of his son Joseph, Jr.) appears on the records of the Episcopal church in Norwalk in 1742 and 1749, as making a handsome donation to the church. In 1750 Joseph, Sr., is distinctly credited "by help rendered the parish by himself & team." In 1749 Joseph, Jr., was one of a committee of three to superintend the furnishing of the church. In 1757 Joseph, Jr., was elected vestryman, and again in 1758. There is a blank in the recorded history of the church from 1760–1780 and the name does not appear again.

JOSEPH'S CHILDREN WERE:

- 8. i. JOSEPH⁴, JR.
- 9. ii. JOHN, b. 1725, in Norwalk.
- 10. iii. SAMUEL, b. Sept., 1726, in Norwalk.

JOSEPH⁴ HITCHCOCK (*Joseph*³, *Eliakim*², *Matthias*¹) son of Joseph and Rebecca (—) Hitchcock was born in Norwalk, Conn.

In 1738, he, with his father, signed a petition addressed to the general assembly at Hartford. In 1749, Joseph Hitchcock, Jr., was one of a committee of three appointed to superintend the finishing of the church, which had been commenced several years previously.

He seems to have been prominent in church affairs during the years between 1738 and 1760, as his name appears constantly on an old account book which was the only relic saved from the fire which burnt church and parsonage. According to this book, in 1757 he subscribed £50-10-0, and gave a day's work at building $1\frac{1}{2}$ rods of stone fence, rating his time at £0-5-7 $\frac{1}{2}$, also a day's work digging a well, rating his time at £0-3-4 $\frac{1}{2}$. In Nov., 1758, himself and Daniel, one day's work; also in Nov., 1758, one of himself, one of Daniel and one of Amos.

In 1760 he bought a pew for which he paid £50-5-0. His last appearances in Norwalk town records were Aug. 27, 1766, when he bought 33 acres of land with dwelling house on it, and in 1769 when he sold about 12 acres. He married Hannah Marvin, oldest daughter of John Marvin, Sr. by his 2d wife Rachel St John. She was born at Norwalk, Conn., Dec. 4, 1722.

THEIR CHILDREN WERE:

- i. DANIEL⁵, b. Dec. 9, 1741 in Norwalk, Conn.; m. Dec. 4, 176— Deborah (?) Rogers who was b. on Long Island, Feb. 8, 1742 and d. in New York Oct. 16, 1832.* Daniel d. Aug. 24, 1802. JOHN⁴ HITCHCOCK (*Joseph*³, *Eliakim*², *Matthias*¹) son of Joseph and Rebecca (—) Hitchcock was born in Norwalk, Conn., in 1725; married Mindwell Rundle, daughter of Wm. Joseph Rundle. Norwalk records say, "John Hitchcock and Mindwell Rundle were married to each other on the 8th day of July, 1756, by the Reverend Abram Todd, minister of the Gospel."

John bought land in Greenwich, Conn., of John Coscob, an Indian, who gave the name to that part of the town of Greenwich.

HIS CHILDREN WERE:

17. i. THOMAS, b. Aug. 30, 1757.
18. ii. JOSEPH, b. Oct. 29, 1759.

SAMUEL⁴ HITCHCOCK (*Joseph*³, *Eliakim*², *Matthias*¹) son of Joseph and Rebecca (—) Hitchcock was born in Norwalk, Conn., Sept., 1726; married in 1752, Abigail Dunham of Sharon, Conn. She was born in April, 1727. Her brother Jonathan was one of the first settlers of Sharon and presided over the first town meeting there. Samuel removed to Sharon, Conn., about 1752 and settled on a farm in the southwest part of the town near the Amenia Union Post-office, where in 1757 he purchased his homestead. This farm is still in the possession of his grand-daughter, Joanna Lambert. His first child, Samuel Jr., was born there in 1755, and the 100th anniversary was celebrated there in 1855. Samuel died in Sharon, Jan. 1, 1794.

From Sedgwick's History of the town of Sharon, I copy the following.

"Samuel Hitchcock was from Norwalk in 1752. He purchased of Jonathan Gillett the place where Governor Smith lived, and resided there five years; he then removed to the south part of the town where his son the late Asa Hitchcock lived, and there spent the remainder of his days. It was at his house that the first Methodist sermon preached in the town was delivered. The fact that the first Methodist sermon was preached at his house, would lead one to think that the family were Methodist. The fact is they were Churchmen, and during the Revolution they remained passive because of Tory proclivities engendered by "Church and State." The descendants of Asa Hitchcock still adhere to the church. Stephen's descendants are divided among many denominations, but the greater part are Universalists and Unitarians."

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

"It is one hundred years the present season since our Grandfather took possession of the farm on which the heirs of Asa Hitchcock now reside.

The relatives, residents of this vicinity, propose to commemorate the One Hundredth Anniversary of that event, by a gathering of as many of the descendants of our Grandfather as may be. We would therefore respectfully invite you to meet with us, at the Old Homestead, in Sharon, Conn. on Thursday the 17th of September, that day being the One Hundredth birthday of our Uncle Thomas

Hitchcock, long since deceased—he being the first born child at that place. By order of

SOUTHARD HITCHCOCK HOMER HITCHCOCK SAML HITCHCOCK AMARIAH HITCHCOCK	}	Committee.

He married, Sept. 14, 1862, in Edinburg, Portage Co., Ohio, Carrie M. Trumbull daughter of Robert and Margaret Trumbull. The following account of James L. Hitchcock is an extract from the "Biographical Record of Genesee, Lapeer and Tuscola Counties, Mich."

"The business circles of Tuscola Co. acknowledge a worthy representative in the subject of this notice, who is a hardware merchant in Cass City. He came to this place about twenty years ago and by his honest dealings has gained a large trade and what is better still has won the esteem of all with whom he has come in contact. It is to such as he that the county is indebted for its present high standing among other counties of Michigan, for it has ever been his aim to promote by his influence and means all enterprises calculated to develop the resources of the community.

When Mr. Hitchcock became of age he learned the tinsmith trade of his uncle. Sept. 10. 1858 he purchased from the government 120 acres in Tuscola Co. ; moving on his land he built a log cabin which he covered temporarily with sheet iron (this he afterwards made into camp kettles and sold to the Indians.) He was the pioneer hardware man in Central and Northern Tuscola, his shop being located in a dense forest, which abounded in bears, deer, wolves and other wild animals. He built the first frame house in miles around and manufactured tinware and other goods in his line such as Indians and the few white settlers required. The manufacturing of those goods occupied his evenings and rainy days while in pleasant weather he was busily engaged in improving his place. After he was married his wife taught school two years in Tuscola Co., walking two miles to and from school both night and morning. March, 1864, Mr. Hitchcock moved to Wahjamega, erected a store and residence and while he worked at his trade his wife acted as clerk. Sept., 1872 he removed to Cass City where he has since resided. Since Mr. Hitchcock came to Cass City he has contributed materially to its welfare. In his political views Mr. Hitchcock is a staunch Republican, and has held the office of Justice of the Peace, Road Commissioner, School Inspector of Dayton Township as well as Treasurer of Cass City.

Through many of the early days of his business here he was obliged to haul his goods from Saginaw to this point which made his work heavy indeed, however he has lived to enjoy the result of the arduous toil of former years."

DESCENDANTS OF MATTHIAS HITCHCOCK—BRANCH II.

NATHANIEL² HITCHCOCK (*Matthias*¹) son of Matthias and Elizabeth Hitchcock of New Haven, Conn., was born, probably in New Haven. He married Jan. 18, 1670, Elizabeth Moss, daughter of John Moss. She was born in New Haven Oct. 3, 1652. Besides his homestead in New Haven town he held land at the South End and in Foxing, as we find record: "Nathaniel Hitchcock having been in quiet possession at South End Neck 'of lands,' doth now record them to himself." One lot adjoined Eliakim Hitchcock's land, and we read, "Nathaniel Hitchcock has been in quiet possession for many years past, this 17th day of September, 1683." He died in East Haven. The inventory of his estate was taken March 22, 1699. It included "the homestead, land and meadow at town, valued at £200, the South End farne, and woodland at Foxing valued at £300." His widow died about 1706. Her will was dated Sept. 5, 1706, and admitted to Probate the first Monday in June, 1707.

HIS CHILDREN WERE:

- i. ELIZABETH³, b. March 17, 1672; m. — Bishop and had son *John*⁴. She d. before 1731. A New Haven record shows deed "March 16, 1731—2, John Bishop of Guilford to his uncle John Hitchcock of New Haven all the right to property of his mother Elizabeth of Guilford deceased, daughter of Elizabeth Hitchcock of New Haven, deceased, which he or other heirs of his mother might have from his Grandmother Elizabeth Hitchcock."
87. ii. NATHANIEL, b. July 28, 1678; m. Rebecca Morris.
88. iii. ABIAH, (i. e. Abigail) b. Oct. 26, 1680; m. Samuel Peck.

- vi. MARY, b. Jan. 20, 1692; m. Aug. 1, 1710, Samuel Bassett son of Samuel and Mary. She d. before 1732—3, as appears from New Haven record: "March 5, 1732—3, Samuel Bassett of New Haven to his brother-in-law John Hitchcock all right and title belonging to his first wife Mary or to her children in the estate of Mrs. Elizabeth Hitchcock."

THIRD GENERATION AND CHILDREN.

NATHANIEL³ HITCHCOCK (*Nathaniel*², *Matthias*¹) son of Nathaniel and Elizabeth (Moss) Hitchcock, was born in East Haven, Conn., July 28, 1678. He married Dec. 23, 1702, Rebecca Morris, daughter of Eleazer and Anna Morris, born at East Haven, July 20, 1682. He settled at South End Neck, as appears in New Haven records, Vol. 4th: "Agreement between John Thompson, Thomas Hitchcock (son of Eliakim) John Dennison, Nathaniel Hitchcock and Samuel Smith, proprietors of South End Neck, to lay out all said land in equal proportion: each one to have all he now possesses and improves. What any one wants, to be equal to any other in what he now possesses as taken up by first proprietors of said neck, shall be made up to him in 1st or 2d division of land." Nathaniel Hitchcock died Dec. 5, 1726. His widow Rebecca was appointed guardian of the minor children July 2, 1729. She died in 1729. The following New Haven record is of interest here as grouping the children of this family and showing the locality of the homestead and also the various residences of the children at this later date. "Feb. 27, 1747—8, Nathaniel Hitchcock of Farmington, Hartford Co., Benjamin Hitchcock of Woodbury, Fairfield Co. and Daniel, Caleb, James, Rebecca, Jr. and Elizabeth Hitchcock of New Haven, for valuable consideration received by them of Stephen Hitchcock of New Haven, quit claim to him their right to dwelling house and land on which it is, which was their father Nathaniel Hitchcock's, late deceased, at South End Neck." The children of Nathaniel and Rebecca were:

JOHN³ HITCHCOCK (*Nathaniel*², *Matthias*¹) son of Nathaniel and Elizabeth (Moss) Hitchcock, was born in East Haven, Conn., Jan. 28, 1685. He married 1st, Mary Thompson, daughter of Stephen, March 4, 1707—8. She died Feb. 27, 1708—9. He married 2d, May 29, 1711, Abiah Bassett. He was a member of the Legislature seventeen sessions from 1739—1747. He was Deacon of the 1st church of New Haven from 1742—1753. His tomb stone is to be found in the Grove St. Cemetery, where it was placed when removed from the center church yard. A catalogue of the stones removed says: "Dea. John, son of Nathaniel and Elizabeth (Moss) Hitchcock." He died Oct. 14, 1753 in New Haven.

The will of Abiah, widow of John, was admitted to Probate, June 7, 1758. New Haven records say that she died "Oct. 14, 1760." (?) She gives to her sons John, Samuel, Amos and Joseph each five shillings lawful money; the Bible to Joseph, (tradition says this was the old English Bible,) the rest of her property to be divided among her daughters. Amos was sole executor.

THEIR CHILDREN WERE:

97. i. JOHN⁴, b. Jan. 1, 1708—9; m. Esther Ford.
98. ii. MARY, b. March 6, 1712; m. James Peck.

EBENEZER⁸ HITCHCOCK (*Nathaniel*², *Matthias*¹) son of Nathaniel and Elizabeth (Moss) Hitchcock, was born in East Haven, Conn., April 9, 1689. He married June 25, 1711, Anna Perkins. He owned land in Milford, Conn., but lived in Amity Parish, New Haven. From New Haven town records "Feb. 3, 1721," we learn that, "John Hitchcock, farmer, and his brother Ebenezer Hitchcock, taylor, exchanged lands which had 'belonged to our Mother Elizabeth deceased,' Ebenezer took that which lay near the Milford line." His estate was appraised Feb. 16, 1726—7, at which time his children were all minors. His widow Anna died in Nov., 1757.

HIS CHILDREN WERE:

- i. TIMOTHY¹, b. Aug. 20, 1713; d. unm. July, 1740. April 3, 1749 an agreement was made "as to division of land of Timothy Hitchcock of New Haven, deceased, being land set off to him in estate of his father Ebenezer." This land was divided between his brothers, Ebenezer, Jonathan and Joseph and his sister Anne, the wife of John Russell.
- 102. ii. JOSEPH, b. before 1717; m. Abigail Bishop.
- 103. iii. EBENEZER, b. —, 1717; m. Rebekah Thomas.

FOURTH GENERATION AND CHILDREN.

JAMES⁴ HITCHCOCK (Nathaniel³, Nathaniel², Matthias¹) son of Nathaniel and Rebecca (Morris) Hitchcock, was born at "South End Neck," New Haven, Conn., Dec. 5, 1703. He married in 1721, Elizabeth Ray. He died in 1729. His widow, June 14, 1729, was appointed administrator on his estate, and also guardian to the minor child James. She afterward married Caleb Elmer of Stratford, Conn. Child:

105. i. JAMES, b. —; m. Phebe Leak.

NATHANIEL⁴ HITCHCOCK (Nathaniel³, Nathaniel², Matthias¹) son of Nathaniel and Rebecca (Morris) Hitchcock, was born in East Haven, Dec. 16, 1705. He married Feb. 14, 1728, Elizabeth Mansfield. He removed to Southington in 1743. He was living in Farmington, Conn., Feb. 27, 1747—8. In Farmington are many deeds recorded of sales of land in Southington Parish by Nathaniel Hitchcock of Farmington to his sons Nathaniel, Amos, Joel, and Zachariah, dating from 1763—1769. He afterwards removed to Burlington, Conn., where he died. His widow died Sept. 11, 1807, æ. 100 years and eleven months.

The following is an extract from the Hartford Courant of Sept. 30, 1807 concerning Elizabeth (Mansfield) Hitchcock who lived to be nearly 101 years of age.

"She was the widow of Mr. Nathaniel Hitchcock by whom she had eleven children, four sons and seven daughters. Ten of these survive. The eldest is 79 years old, the youngest 57. Her sixth, a son, died aged 62. By best accounts she had 78 grandchildren, of whom 60 are now living. Of the 4th and 5th generation but four have died. Of the whole 279 descendants only 23 have died and 256 remain.

At the age of 94 she rode 12 or 14 miles to visit one of her children. She was able, until her last sickness, to walk abroad and to go up and down stairs without assistance.

She possessed a strong mind and retained her faculties but little impaired until deranged by her last sickness. She had been for 70 years a professor of religion and was constant in retiring twice a day for secret devotion, and enjoyed a humble hope of eternal glory through the redemption of Jesus Christ our Lord.

The sweet remembrance of the just Shall flourish when they sleep in dust."

The children of Nathaniel and Elizabeth were :

106. i. NATHANIEL³, b. Dec. 7, 1828; m. Rebecca Cook.
- ii. LYDIA, b. Dec. 7, 1730; m. May 28, 1752, James Beckwith of Southington; removed to Plymouth, but d. in Bristol, Conn. Farmington records give this name as "Eliza." She had two sons and six daus.

DANIEL⁴ HITCHCOCK (*Nathaniel*³, *Nathaniel*², *Matthias*¹) son of Nathaniel and Rebecca (Morris) Hitchcock, was born in East Haven, Conn., April 17, 1708. He married, March 12, 1728—9, Abigail Chedsey. He lived in East Haven and on New Haven records is called "Daniel Hitchcock, cord weaver or wainer." Deeds at New Haven show that his land was on "Pond Rock," so called. He died Jan. 1, 1761, and his wife Abigail, Jan. 23, 1761.

HIS CHILDREN WERE :

- i. JEMIMA⁵, b. March 3, 1730; d. Sept. 16, 1743.
- ii. ABIGAIL, b. April 25, 1734; m. Joshua Austin, son of Joshua and Mehitable (Hitchcock) Austin, May 6, 1756, and d. Aug. 29, 1764.

CALEB⁴ HITCHCOCK (Nathaniel³, Nathaniel², Matthias¹) son of Nathaniel and Rebecca (Morris) Hitchcock, was born Sept. 2, 1712. He married 1st, Feb. 16, 1738—9, Isabell Goodsell, born Sept. 9, 1717. Deeds in possession of Rev. O. B. Hitchcock of Windham, N. Y. show that as early as 1735 Caleb Hitchcock bought land in New Haven, Conn., at what is called the "Half Mile" bounded easterly by the line between Branford and New Haven and that it remained in the possession of the family until the time of Caleb's death at which time he occupied half the house. A highway appears to have been originally laid out through his land; but this highway was sold, Dec. 22, 1742, to Caleb Hitchcock and Hiram Blakeslee, through whose land it ran. The deed was signed by Daniel Hitchcock one of the town committee appointed for the purpose. In 1743 Caleb Hitchcock bought land in the parish of Northbury, town of Waterbury, Conn., but did not remove there. Also in 1743 he bought of Samuel Barnes of New Haven one part of a sloop called the "Three friends, now riding at anker in New Haven harbor, with all her Riging, viz., mast, boom, bolsprit," etc., etc., paying for it £55 old tenor. In 1757 he bought land adjoining his own, and also Daniel Hitchcock's land.

He married 2d, May 26, 1757, Sarah Shepard, widow of Thomas Shepard of New Haven. She was perhaps born March 12, 1712 and was daughter of Samuel and Sarah (Bradley) Hotchkiss. She married 1st, Thomas Shepard as early as 1729. He died in 1755 when as above she married 2d, Caleb Hitchcock. She died, probably on Sept. 17, 1773.

Caleb Hitchcock married 3d, as early as 1775, Lydia, who was born about 1722. She joined the North Haven church from the "White Haven church," at New Haven center. Caleb died March 30, 1777. Administration on his estate was granted to Jacob and Samuel Hitchcock, April 7, 1777. New Haven Probate records show that he made a will but never signed it, "as he was waiting for his son Caleb who lived at a considerable distance." The children agreed to the provisions of this will and a division was accordingly made. His widow Lydia died Jan. 9, 1782, æ. 55, which would give her birth about 1726.

HIS CHILDREN WERE :

110. i. JACOB, b. July 4, 1739; m. Phebe Ives.
- ii. SAMUEL, b. June, 1745; d. Aug. 17, 1745, aged 60 days.

- iv. CALEB, b. March 3, 1749 in North Haven, Conn.; m. Jan. 4, 1776, in Washington, Conn., Joanna Baker. In 1775 he sold land in Branford next New Haven line and also land in New Haven near Branford line. In 1776, he was living in Kent, Litchfield Co., Conn. In 1783 he was called on New Haven records "Caleb Hitchcock of Washington, Litchfield Co., Conn."
- v. ISABEL, b. May 3, 1751; m. April 23, 1777, Jonathan Heaton.

BENJAMIN⁴ HITCHCOCK (*Nathaniel*³, *Nathaniel*², *Matthias*¹) son of Nathaniel and Rebecca (Morris) Hitchcock, was born in East Haven, Conn., Aug. 22, 1715. He married 1st, Feb. 7, 1750, in Woodbury, Conn., Elizabeth Averett, who died Feb. 9, 1752. He married 2d, Jan. 31, 1754, Abigail Olds Ward. He died Sept. 24, 1800, æ. 85, "disease sore legs translated to eyes and nasal glands."

HIS CHILDREN WERE :

STEPHEN⁴ HITCHCOCK (*Nathaniel*³, *Nathaniel*², *Matthias*¹) son of Nathaniel and Rebecca (Morris) Hitchcock, was born in East Haven, Conn., July 6 or 26, 1724. He married 1st, Feb. 9, 1749, Sarah Leak. He moved from East Haven to Southington, Conn., Feb. 27, 1747—8, when he paid to his brothers and sisters "valuable consideration for all their rights in his father's estate," he is called "of New Haven" and about 1760 is called "Stephen Hitchcock of Farmington, Conn." He possibly married 2d, Nov. 5, 1778, Mrs. Abigail Pardee. In 1785, April 27, Stephen Hitchcock of Southington gives land in Southington to his son Daniel. In 1788 Stephen and Abigail his wife were living in Southington.

HIS CHILDREN WERE :

- xi. A child bapt. Sept. 9, 1759.

JOHN⁴ HITCHCOCK (*John*³, *Nathaniel*², *Matthias*¹) son of John and Mary (Thompson) Hitchcock, was born, probably in New Haven, Conn., Jan. 1, 1708—9. He married, March 1, 1732—3, Esther Ford, daughter of Matthew Ford. They would seem from births and baptisms of children to have lived at Cheshire, Conn., as well as New Haven and also on the church records of Cheshire appears, "Esther, wife of John Hitchcock, bapt. Aug. 1, 1742." She died in New Haven, July 11, 1749, just six days after the birth of her son, who was baptized afterward in Cheshire and named Ichabod.

John Hitchcock married 2d, Martha. He owned land in Mt. Carmel Parish and apparently lived there himself for we read: "March 10, 1763, John Hitchcock of New Haven for love, etc., to his son Stephen gave him a tract of land in Mt. Carmel Parish, 'being West End from where I now live.' " Land in Mt. Carmel Parish seems to have come to the descendants of John and Esther from their mother Esther and grandfather Matthew Ford. John Hitchcock died in New Haven July 27, or 29, 1764, æ. 57. His widow Martha married Dec. 7, 1766, Zinah Kimberly. The children of John Hitchcock were: (Order uncertain.)

112. i. STEPHEN⁵, b. (?); eldest son.
- ii. MARY, b (?); m. Feb. 12, 1755, Nathan Alling, Jr.
- iii. THANKFUL, b. (?); m. March 4, 1761, Noah Wolcut, Jr. She d. before 1776.

SAMUEL⁴ HITCHCOCK (John³, Nathaniel², Matthias¹) son of John and Abiah (Bassett) Hitchcock, was born in New Haven, Conn.,

Nov. 5, 1713. He married Nov. 25, 1740, Mary Perkins. He lived in Mt. Carmel Parish, the north part of Hamden, Conn., originally a part of New Haven. That he owned land in Mt. Carmel Parish is shown from two deeds. "Oct. 1, 1771: Samuel Hitchcock of New Haven to his father Samuel Hitchcock of the same place, lot in Mt. Carmel Parish, $2\frac{1}{4}$ acres, at S. W. corner of lot on which his house stands which his father gave him." "Oct. 3, 1771, Samuel Hitchcock of New Haven to his son David Hitchcock for love, etc., piece of land in Mt. Carmel Parish, viz. $2\frac{1}{4}$ a. one lately conveyed to him by his son Samuel, Jr., part bounded by his own, etc." On Probate records Aug. 4, 1788, when his will was administered on, he is called Samuel Hitchcock of Hamden.

HIS CHILDREN WERE:

JOSEPH⁴ HITCHCOCK (*John*³, *Nathaniel*², *Matthias*¹) son of John and Abiah (Bassett) Hitchcock, was born in New Haven, Feb. 13, 1717. He married Dec. 14, 1749, Hannah Ball, daughter of John and Mary (Tuttle) Ball, who died in 1794. On New Haven records several deeds relate to Joseph Hitchcock and he is there called Joseph, Jr., in 1754: and the son of Ebenezer and Anna (Perkins) Hitchcock is called Joseph, Sr. "April 28, 1750, Joseph Hitchcock and Hannah his wife of New Haven, to John Mix some land part bounded by land of our honored Mother Mary Punderson." "May 3, 1754, Joseph Hitchcock, Sr., Amos Hitchcock and Joseph Hitchcock, Jr., of New Haven to Caleb Hitchcock land laid out to Elizabeth Hitchcock." "Oct. 4, 1754, Joseph Hitchcock and Hannah his wife of New Haven, to their brother Stephen Ball of same quit claim their right in house and homestead of John Ball, which right came by Hannah." "Aug. 14, 1775, Abram Atwater and Mary his wife of Wallingford, Joseph Hitchcock and Hannah his wife of New Haven to Jeremiah Atwater of New Haven, etc."

JAMES⁵ HITCHCOCK (James⁴, Nathaniel³, Nathaniel², Matthias¹) son of James and Elizabeth (Ray) Hitchcock, was born in New Haven township, Conn. On New Haven Registry of Deeds, July 26, 1751, he is called "James Hitchcock formerly of New Haven, now of Farmington, Hartford Co." On Farmington records, Feb. 6, 1753, he is called James Hitchcock of New Haven. New Haven Registry gives deed, "Sept. 3, 1753, James Hitchcock of New Haven to Daniel Augur of East Haven, New Haven town, all his right to small Sabbath Day house which formerly belonged to his grandfather Nathaniel Hitchcock deceased." He married Oct. 11, 1753, Phebe Leak, daughter of Thomas and Mary Leak.

THEIR CHILDREN WERE:

AMOS⁵ HITCHCOCK (*Nathaniel*⁴, *Nathaniel*³, *Nathaniel*², *Matthias*¹) son of Nathaniel and Elizabeth (Mansfield) Hitchcock, was born in East Haven, Conn. in 1738. His father moved to Southington, Conn. in 1743. He married May 3, 1759, Mrs. Azubah (Cook) Benham, born in Southington, Jan. 23, 1733, daughter of Robert Cook. He enlisted in the army of the Revolution, serving in the regiment commanded by Col. Jedediah Huntington of Norwich, Conn. He was a corporal in Stanley's Co., June 24, 1776, and was at Stony Point. After the war, by permission of the town, he built a house in the twenty rod highway just north of Burying Ground Hill.

The following, relating to Amos Hitchcock, is taken from the History of Southington :

“Amos Hitchcock enlisted in the army in the company of Capt. Gad Stanley of New Britain and was connected with the regiment of Col. Jedadiah Huntington of Norwich. He was at the battle of Long Island, and together with his sons Jason and Samuel, he was with ‘Mad Anthony’ Wayne at Stony Point when that position was taken July 15, 1779. In the first forlorn hope called for he was the second to step forth. When the company was filled it was ordered that if any felt unwilling to go forward they might yet retire. Mr. Hitchcock said that one man stepped back, and was met with ‘such yells of contempt,’ that if others desired to do so they were deterred from it. He said that in some way they had learned the enemy’s countersign, and were thus enabled to execute successfully the venture.”

The following is a letter he wrote his wife while in the service :

“NEW YORK, AUG. 30, 1776.

DEAR WIFE :—

I take this opportunity to write to you to let you know that through the divine Goodness of God I am well as I hope these few lines will find you also. The news we have here is more than I am able to inform you in one sheet of paper, the twenty-second day of this month the King’s troops landed down at the Narrows upon Long Island, and marched up about five miles and they are in camp, and a tuesday of this week they came out against us and got around us before we knew anything of it, their light horse came in front and we fit upon a retreat back to our forts which was about four miles, they got around us two or three times, but through the goodness of God Capt. Stanley’s company all escaped safe, although many others did not, there is not but about seventy men left in Colonel Hunting’s Regiment, six out of our place Namely—Colonel Clark, Ensign Gillett, Sargent Hungerford, Gad Fuller, John Dutton, Isaac Potter, killed or took a tuesday night about midnight orders came to us to leave Long Island and go over to York and now Long Island is in the hands of the Buchers and I believe New York will be soon, by what I can learn there is something at the bottom, but what I cannot tell, God only knows.

So I subscribe myself your husband,

AMOS HITCHCOCK.

P. S. Send every opportunity. I received your letter and tobacco and was glad of them, and I was very glad to understand

Ambrose does so well, get the beef of Mr. Dutton, get tallow, get that is good Jason is well and Harty.’’

Amos Hitchcock died July or Feb. 17, 1801. His widow died April 2, 1814, æ. 82.

 - ii. GEORGE H., b. Sept. 29, 1850; m. in England in 1882, Henrietta Richardson. He is an artist. "It was in Mr. George Hitchcock's Dutch garden at Egmond Hoef that Mr. Shannon painted the well-known portrait of his friend, and this same garden gave him the sobriquet of 'Tulip' Hitchcock. The gold medal of the American Art Association was awarded to him for his 'Toilers of the Sea.' His 'Scarecrow' represented a red-cloaked girl sitting in a field of red poppies. It is in painting the sand dunes of Holland that Mr. Hitchcock is seen at his very best. 'La Maternite' is one of these, and shows us a woman in the sea dunes returning from work with her children. His early life was spent at Providence, in the United States, and here he was educated for the law, but, abandoning his profession for the more pleasing paths of paint, he crossed the Atlantic to study in Paris under Boulanger and Lefebvre. It was Mesdag, however, whom he found at the Hague, who left the final impression on the painter, and from that time he has remained faithful to that land of dikes and dunes, blue china and black tulips, working all through the summer at Egmond-aan-Zee, elaborating all the winter in Paris, London or Madrid—a truly ideal existence for an artist who is at one and the same time a realist and the most ardent of idealists. Last year Mr. Hitchcock had nothing to show in England, for of the twenty-six canvases which he took to New York at the end of 1892 not one remained unsold."

HIRAM⁷ HITCHCOCK (*Jesse*⁶, *John*⁵, *John*⁴, *John*³, *Nathaniel*², *Matthias*¹) son of Jesse and Chloe (Grandy) Hitchcock, was born in Claremont, N. H., Aug. 27, 1832. At the age of sixteen he entered Black River Academy, at Ludlow, Vt. One of his instructors there, by whom he was influenced, was the late Chief Justice of Iowa, Austin Adams, LL. D., who had just graduated from Dartmouth College. He fitted for Dartmouth, but instead of entering he accepted a position as instructor in Black River Academy. In 1852 his eyes failing he gave up study, and spent the winter in New Orleans in the office of the St. Charles Hotel. In 1866 his health failing, he retired from business and traveled extensively abroad where he revived his interest and studies in ancient art in Egypt, Syria, Cyprus, Greece and Italy. He located in Hanover, N. H., in 1871. Early the next year he announced to the world the extensive discoveries of General di Cesnola in Cyprus, and read papers on that subject before the learned societies of New York and also before the Faculty and students of Dartmouth College. A paper of his on this subject was published in Harper's Magazine of that year, which attracted much attention abroad. During the same year the degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon Mr. Hitchcock by Dartmouth, and, on motion of the venerable and eminent Samuel Birch, LL. D., President of the British Society of Biblical Archæology, he was made a member of that society. In 1876 he was appointed by the Governor a Trustee of the State College; two years later he was elected a Trustee of Dartmouth College. In 1877 he represented Hanover in the State Legislature. In 1879 he resumed his connection with the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Scarcely was Commencement over in 1889, when the old college church was torn up for repairs, which transformed its interior from a bare, unattractive room to one far handsomer than could possibly have been built new for any moderate sum, and the historic building is preserved. During the autumn of the same year was laid the foundation for a hospital which is the finest building in town, and as well as being of immense value to the Medical College is a boon to the people in this vicinity. The burden of the expensive repairs on the church was almost wholly borne by the Hon. Hiram Hitchcock, and the hospital, now completed and opened, is entirely his gift. Mr. Hitchcock has filled many positions of honor and trust during his active career. A life member of the American Geographical Society, the New York Historical Society and the New England Society of New York, a member of the Dartmouth Scientific Association, the New York Academy of Sciences, and the New York Chamber of Commerce. He was also President of the Nicaragua Canal Association, which obtained the concessions from Nicaragua and Costa Rica, under which the canal will be constructed; and on the organization of the Maritime Canal Company of Nicaragua under the charters of the United States and of the State of Vermont, he was elected its President which office he still holds. He m. Oct. 21, 1858, Mary Maynard. She d. March 25, 1887. The hospital which he built in Hanover, is called the Mary Hitchcock Hospital and is a memorial of her.

Anti-Rent troubles broke up the school and I went to Wilbraham, Mass., about two years and to Amenia, Dutchess Co., then in 1850 to Union college and grad. 1852. Studied Theology under Dr. Taylor at New Haven Divinity school one year, one year at Poughkeepsie Law School, again a year at New Haven, the third year at Andover; grad. there in 1856: then accepted invitation to a church at White River Junction, Vt. Health failed. Interval of prostration, then preaching at Ashland until fall of '59, and at Whitney's Point, N. Y. until 1860. Health failed, was at home until war broke out. In the spring of 1862 I was sent down the Potomac to help remove the overflow of the Fredericksburg Hospitals to Washington; then engaged in ministering to sick and wounded in visits to Camp Convalescent, Va. and the various forts and hospitals around the Capitol. Also that winter at Port Royal and afterwards at Savannah and Charleston. When those Andersonville prisoners that were left alive were said to be hastily marched to the Georgia or Florida coast on approach of Gen. Sherman, I was sent with supplies for their relief. They were found west of Jacksonville and brought to the Bluffs at the bend of the river St. John and camped above Jacksonville. I was at St. Augustine at the breaking up of the hospital there and came with the men to the general hospital at Hilton Head. I was at Charleston at the anniversary of the capture of Fort Sumpter and in the Fort when Gen. Anderson restored the flag he had struck four years ago. In '83 I assisted in preparing a History of Green Co., taking the towns of Ashland and Windham, with some biographical and genealogical studies." Address, Windham, N. Y.

DESCENDANTS OF MATTHIAS HITCHCOCK—BRANCH III.

JOHN² HITCHCOCK (*Matthias*¹) son of Matthias Hitchcock of New Haven, Conn., was probably born in New Haven, for his father was at New Haven as early as June, 1639, at which time Matthias Hitchcock was one of the original signers of the "fundamental agreement" of the New Haven colony. John Hitchcock was one of the original proprietors of Wallingford, Conn., which town was founded in 1670. He married 1st, Jan. 18, 1670, Abigail Merriman, born April 18, 1654, daughter of Capt. Nathaniel Merriman, who was one of the first settlers of Wallingford. John Hitchcock's first three children were born in New Haven, 1671 to 1674; and he removed to Wallingford in 1676. He calls himself "landowner, yeoman or planter." He married 2d, Mary. The inventory of his estate shows that he owned some 183 acres in different lots and that his whole property amounted to £302. In the settlement of the estate the widow is called Mary, and on Aug. 12, 1717, she appears as "Mary Clark, alias Hitchcock." In the will Nathaniel is called the eldest son. No mention is made in the division of property of Samuel, Elizabeth or Hannah, and they may have died; but apparently Elizabeth had married Daniel Loynes or Lines, and Hannah, John Lines his brother; for Wallingford records give, first, Sept. 29, 1708, a deed of land of John Hitchcock to his son-in-law, Daniel Loynes, and later John Loynes deeds land to his father-in-law John Hitchcock, part of which came to said John Loynes from his brother Daniel Loynes, and still later Feb. 10, 1709, John Hitchcock gives a piece of land to his son-in-law Daniel Lines. It also appears that the widow of John Lines was "Hannah." John Hitchcock died July 6, 1716. His widow Mary married April 18, 1717, Samuel Clark.

THEIR CHILDREN WERE:

- i. A DAUGHTER³, b. Oct. 1, 1671, at New Haven.
- ii. SAMUEL, b. 1672, at New Haven; d. young.
218. iii. ABIGAIL, b. April 10, 1674; m. Jacob Johnson.

THIRD GENERATION AND CHILDREN.

ABIGAIL³ HITCHCOCK (*John*², *Matthias*¹) daughter of John and Abigail (Merriman) Hitchcock, was born in New Haven, Conn., April 10, 1674. She married Dec. 14, 1697, Jacob² Johnson, son of William Johnson, who was born in 1669. She was the mother of his twelve children and died Jan. 9, 1726. He married 2d, Dorcas, so named in his will. Sergeant Jacob Johnson was an uncle of Samuel Johnson, the first President of King's College. He died in the summer of 1749, æ. 80. His will was dated June 3, 1749 and was administered Aug. 1, 1749. By its terms his property was divided among: "dau. Sarah, wife of Daniel Bartholomew; grandaus. Lydia and Prudence Holt, daus. of Capt. Benj. Holt, late of Wallingford; eldest son Reuben (for his, Reuben's, son who had not the use of his right reason); Eunice dau. of his son Israel deceased, who is sick and weakly; sons, Reuben, Isaac, Enos, Abner, Caleb, Dan., Jacob; and grandsons, sons of Israel deceased." The estate, clear of debts and charges, amounted to £13,603, 4s., 3d. The children of Abigail (Hitchcock) Johnson were:

219.

MARY³ HITCHCOCK (*John*², *Matthias*¹) daughter of John and Abigail (Merriman) Hitchcock, was born in Wallingford, Conn., Dec. 10, 1676. She married (probably in 1695) Benjamin Beach of Wallingford, Conn. Their children, 1696 to 1713, were born in Wallingford; but we find that later, "Benj. Beach and his wife Mary left Wallingford and settled in Hanover, Hunterdon Co., West Jersey. This is shown by deed from him dated at the above place whereby he relinquishes his claim to property coming to him through his wife. The children of Mary (Hitchcock) Beach were:

1. Peter^a, b. Sept. 14, 1696.
2. Eunice, b. Aug. 3, 1698.
3. Benjamin, b. May 19, 1702.
4. Mary (twin), b. May 19, 1702.

- iii. HANNAH, b. Jan. 11, 1709; m. March 7, 1727, Caleb Matthews.

221.

MARGERY³ HITCHCOCK (*John*², *Matthias*¹) daughter of John and Abigail (Merriman) Hitchcock was born Sept. 9, 1681, in Wallingford, Conn. She married March 10, 1699, Ensign Joseph² Munson, (*Joseph*¹) who was born Nov. 1, 1677. He died Oct. 30, 1725, leaving estate valued at £697-06-11. Margery, before Jan. 1, 1727—8, married 2d, Stephen Peck, as at that date he appears in court in her behalf as administrator of estate of Joseph Munson. The children of Margery (Hitchcock) Munson were :

1. *Abel*⁴, b. Jan. 10, 1701.
2. Abigail, b. April 21, 1704.
3. Joseph, b. Dec. 25, 1705.

JOHN³ HITCHCOCK (*John*², *Matthias*¹) son of John and Abigail (Merriman) Hitchcock, was born in Wallingford, Conn., Oct. 16, 1685. He married 1st, Nov. 21, 1712, Marlow Munson, who became the mother of ten of his children. In New Haven probate records he is sometimes called John Hitchcock of Wallingford, and sometimes of New Haven. Legal documents also call him "John Hitchcock of Cheshire" where three of Marlow (Munson) Hitchcock's children were born. She died July 1, 1739. He married 2d, Nov. 29, 1739, Elizabeth Chatterton. He died May 22, 1760. By his will he left a part of his property to his "wife Elizabeth so long as she remains my widow." She remained his widow for almost twenty-eight years, as she died May 4, 1788. In 1789, May 18th, right was granted to her son Amos⁴ Hitchcock to administer on the unadministered estate of John³ Hitchcock of Cheshire. He had represented, "The widow Elizabeth is now dead and her dower in said estate has not been divided, and many of the heirs are poor and not able to bear the expense of dividing, and others are in distant parts of the world," and had requested "liberty to sell so much of the dower as shall pay the cost of dividing the same." The court ordered the remaining dower to be divided among the heirs of the seven sons of the deceased. Titus, who had died in 1781, had previously bought the rights of Peter, John and Dan in said dower. Most of the sons of John³ Hitchcock settled in the south part of Cheshire, Conn., where their father owned land.

HIS CHILDREN WERE :

- 226. i. PETER⁴, b. Oct. 14, 1713; m. Hannah Smith.

DAMARIS³ HITCHCOCK (*John*², *Matthias*¹) daughter of John and Abigail (Merriman) Hitchcock of New Haven and Wallingford. She was born June 11, 1693 at Wallingford. She married April 22, 1717, Sylvanus Clark, who was born Feb. 1, 1692. He died in 1740, or early in 1741. His will shows that he had married a second time. The children of Damaris (Hitchcock) Clark were:

1. *Jonah*⁴, b. Jan. 31, 1718. He d. unm. before his father. His will, dated Dec. 8, 1740, gives his property to Phebe Curtis, to whom he was engaged, and to brother William and sister Thankful (Clark) Curtis.
2. Thankful, b. Dec. 21, 1719; m. in Oct., 1755, James Curtis.

CAPT. BENJAMIN³ HITCHCOCK (*John*², *Matthias*¹) son of John and Abigail (Merriman) Hitchcock, was born at Wallingford, Conn., March 24, 1696. He lived in Cheshire, Conn., and also bought land of Josiah Lewis in Southington Parish. He married, Oct. 1, 1718, Elizabeth Ives, born Sept. 6, 1700, daughter of Joseph and Esther Ives, who died Aug. 8, 1762. Capt. Benjamin died Feb. 12, 1767. The following quit claim is interesting as showing where the children of Benjamin settled. Farmington records show that on March 15, 1767, the children of Capt. Benjamin Hitchcock, Nathaniel Hitchcock, Elnathan Andrews and Hannah his wife of Wallingford, and Daniel Bradley, 3d, and Abigail his wife of New Haven town and Co. and Samuel Hitchcock and David Hitchcock of Farmington, quit claim to their brother Bela Hitchcock of Wallingford their interest in land which their father bought of Josiah Lewis in Southington Parish.

JUDGE AND CHIEF JUSTICE PETER⁶ HITCHCOCK (*Valentine*⁵, *Peter*⁴, *John*³, *John*², *Matthias*¹) son of Valentine and Sarah (Hotchkiss) Hitchcock, was born in Cheshire, Conn., Oct. 19, 1781. He graduated at Yale in 1801 and was admitted to the bar in 1804. He married in Cheshire, Dec. 12, 1805, Nabby⁵ Cook, born July 10, 1784, youngest child of Elam⁺ and Abigail (Hall) Cook, son of Ephraim³ and Lydia (Doolittle) Cook, son of Samuel² Cook, who came to New Haven, Conn., in 1663, and removed to Wallingford, Conn. in 1670. He was son of Henry¹ Cook who was at Plymouth, Mass. before 1640. He was from Kent, England. In 1806, Peter Hitchcock emigrated to Burton, Ohio, in the original county of Geauga, one of the two counties into which the entire Western Reserve, with a population not exceeding 5 or 6000, was then divided. His family was the fourth or fifth which settled in that township. He was a member of the Ohio Legislature 1810—1812, state senator 1812—16; in 1814 commissioned Lieut. Col., 1st Reg., 4th Brig., 4th Division, Ohio Militia. In 1815 he was tendered by Gov. Thos. Worthington a commission as Judge of the Supreme court of Ohio, which position he declined. In 1816 he was commissioned Major Gen., 4th Division, Ohio Militia. He was member of U. S. congress, 1817—1819; Judge of the Supreme court of Ohio from 1819—1833, and from 1835—42 and from 1845—52, and for twenty-one years was Chief Justice. In 1850 he was chosen member of the convention to form the new constitution of the state of Ohio. He was the embodiment of common sense and in "The Reports" his decisions are regarded with high respect. Judge Hitchcock exhibited in his judicial course a breadth far beyond the too technical learning of the times. On many subjects, as for instance corporate powers, ultra vires, usury and technical objections to legal rights, his opinions have a force and spirit much more in accord with the present day than with that, and much in advance of the general jurisprudence of the states at that time. His decisions have had a strong and happy influence upon the future law of Ohio, and reading them convince one that he was not only an able lawyer but an able jurist. He was a good man and on the roll of those in the generation just passed away who conferred honor on Ohio. He died March 4, 1854, at the home of his son Reuben, at Painesville, Ohio, on his way to his own home at Burton, Ohio. He was buried at Burton. His widow died July 26, 1867, at Burton, Ohio.

PRES. HENRY LAWRENCE⁷ HITCHCOCK, D. D., (*Peter*⁶, *Valentine*⁵, *Peter*⁴, *John*³, *John*², *Matthias*¹) son of Chief Justice Peter and Nabby (Cook) Hitchcock, was born in Burton, Ohio, Oct. 31, 1813. He prepared for college at Burton academy, graduated at Yale 1832, taught at Burton academy two years, partly taught and partly studied theology a third year, entered Lane seminary at Cincinnati, O., in 1835, and studied two years under Dr. Lyman Beecher, was licensed at Burton, 1837, and ordained and installed, that year, pastor over the Congregational church in Morgan, O. He was married Dec. 20, 1837 to Clarissa Mary Sophia Ford, eldest child of Stephen and Eunice (Brooks) Ford, born Aug. 20, 1818, at Burton. Her mother was daughter of Gideon and Clara (Pond) Brooks of Cheshire, Conn. Her father Stephen Ford was second child of John and Esther (Cook) Ford, early settlers of Burton, O., from Cheshire, Conn. Esther Cook was daughter of Elam and Abigail (Hall) Cook, mentioned under No. 62. In 1840 Mr. Hitchcock was called to the recently organized Second Presbyterian Church of Columbus, O. He labored with such ardor and success that the prospered church found it must colonize and he helped in building a church and securing a minister for the colony. He was called the leading minister of Central Ohio for that period.

May 31, 1855, he was elected President of Western Reserve College; he accepted July 10th and was inaugurated at Commencement, July 12th. It was a time in the college history of great difficulty and discouragement, but with energy and patience he took up the work and met with success. He maintained the high standard, removed all encumbrances, added largely to the endowment, and for fifteen years labored as President, Professor, Pastor and Financial Agent. He was often called to serve surrounding towns.

Worn out, he was obliged to lay aside work and Oct. 8, 1867, with Mrs. Hitchcock he started for Europe. They spent the winter in South France and touring in Italy and England. Returning in June, 1868, he resumed work, but the old vigor was with difficulty maintained and in 1871, he resigned the presidency, remaining on the faculty as Instructor and Pastor. On a Sabbath afternoon, July 6, 1873, after a short illness he died and was buried in Hudson, O., July 8. Said President Cutler in his funeral address: "He had wonderful patience, trust, contentment in doing duty. . . . He was always ready for service, no matter how humble the work, how hard, how unpopular. Whenever he saw duty, nothing could deter him from walking straight forward in the path of it. He was amazingly self-sacrificing." The Committee of Cleveland Presbytery spoke of him as of a modest and self-distrustful spirit, yet independent in thought and firm in action.

Soon after his death Mrs. Hitchcock went to Michigan City, Ind. and lived with her oldest son until her death Sept. 20, 1878. She was buried in Hudson, O., Sept. 24, by the side of her husband and children.

HON. PETER⁷ HITCHCOCK (*Peter*⁶, *Valentine*⁵, *Peter*⁴, *John*³, *John*², *Matthias*¹) son of Chief Justice Peter and Nabby (Cook) Hitchcock, was born at Burton, Geauga Co., O., Jan. 16, 1818. He married there Feb. 8, 1841, Eliza Ann Cook, born there Sept. 8, 1818, daughter of Hiram and Lydia Lurenda (Hitchcock) Cook, who had removed from Cheshire, Conn. to Ohio in 1815. Lydia was daughter of Capt. Ichabod Hitchcock. Hiram was son of Merriman Cook, who went to Burton in 1809 and he was son of Elam and Abigail (Hall) Cook. (See 62.)

Peter Hitchcock obtained his school education at Burton, not graduating like his two brothers at Yale. He occupied the homestead farm and became prominent in political and legislative life. He became speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives and was so long a member that he was called "Father of the House." In 1846 he was elected Justice of the Peace and held that office for eighteen consecutive years and was re-elected in 1883. He served in the legislature the terms '58—'59, '60—'61, '66—'67, '70—'71, '76—'77, and '78—'79. He was a member of the Ohio senate '62—'63 and '80—'81. In 1861 he was chosen speaker of the House and twice afterward speaker pro tem and also twice speaker pro tem of the Senate. In 1863 he was made Trustee of the State Asylum for feeble minded youth and he filled the position for about sixteen years. In 1846 he was commissioned by Gov. Corwin, Captain of the Geauga Guards an independent military company in Burton and held the position for ten years. In 1862 he helped organize the Geauga Blues and was commissioned Capt. by Gov. Tod. In 1864 this company was called into the one hundred days service as part of the 171st Ohio N. G. and was a part of the time at Johnson's Island. On March 31, 1884 he became proprietor of the Geauga Leader and under his administration the paper achieved a popularity and influence it never had before.

The Cleveland Leader called him "one of the ablest parliamentarians and shrewdest debaters that ever sat in the Gen. Assembly." He was often on important committees and members of the opposite party credited him with doing more to serve the interests of the state upon questions of finance and taxation than any other member of the House. In 1873 he was a member of the constitutional convention which met at Cincinnati. From boyhood he was an active member of the Congregational church and through all the changes of life he never wavered from the Christian faith in which he died. His death came Nov. 29, 1886.

LUKE HITCHCOCK.

Property amounted to £1499: 14: 05.

Luke Hitchcock took freeman's oath in New Haven in company with Edward Hitchcock July 1, 1644. The date of his removal to Wethersfield is not known but he was a member of the jury at a court held in Hartford June 5, 1646, and March 2, 1647. As New Haven was not under the government of Conn. at that time he was probably living in Wethersfield in 1646. Luke lived in the center of the village. The house now standing on the place was built by Silas Dean some time before the Revolutionary war. He was by trade a shoemaker; a Capt. at Crown Point in 1645; and selectman at Wethersfield in 1653 and 1656. There are on Wethersfield records fourteen tracts of land recorded as belonging to Luke Hitchcock. The following is a sample of these records. "Land of Luke Hitchcock of Wethersfield, Conn., on Connecticut river, one piece whereon his barn now standeth, containing one and one half acres more or less. The end abuting on rose lane South East & on New Street & Cove."

None of these deeds are dated. Some of it was bought of Will Gibbons of Hartford. One tract is recorded in this way: "Another tract of land which was given to his son John Hitchcock by Will Gibbons containing nine acres." After Luke's death in 1659, this nine acres is recorded in John's name having been given him by his Uncle Gibbons. The following account of Luke was given in Oct., 1801, by his great-grandson Aaron Hitchcock of Suffield, Conn. "Luke Hitchcock left the land of his nativity about the middle of the 17th century, as near as could be determined. He had received a large tract of land lying in the eastern part of New England and came out with a view of taking possession of the same, when he arrived he found it inhabited by numerous hordes of natives determined to resist all encroachments of the English. In this situation he determined to abandon the enterprise and settled in Wethersfield. He was peculiarly fortunate in cultivating the friendship of the Indians, who in testimony of their attachment to him gave him a deed of the town of Farmington. This deed was a clear and valid title to the land but was so little thought of that it was destroyed by his wife, who used it to cover a pie in the oven." In 1659 Luke signed an engagement to remove to Hadley but died the same year, Nov. 1, 1659. His will which was admitted to Probate Nov. 28, 1659 was as follows:

Oct. 17th, 1659.

I, Luke Hitchcock, being at present though in some weakness of Body yet in soundness of mind & strong of memory considering my-mortality and knowing it to be my duty to provide for my own family & settle my estate that I may leave no occasion of trouble to them when I am gone and that I may Free myself before I die I do therefore leave this testimony upon record as my last will and testament.

First I do profess my faith & hopes to be in the free grace alone of God in Jesus Christ whose I am and to whom I have forever given up myself both soul and body, being fully persuaded of his unchangeable love and good will both in life and death. And then for my outward estate I dispose of the same as follows.

First I do therefore bequeath and give unto my wife Elizabeth the full power and disposal of all that estate which God has given me in houses, lands, cattle and goods whatsoever within doors and without Provided that in case she marry again that she betake herself to the thirds of my lands and houses and that she give unto my son John the house I now dwell in with the outhouses thereunto belonging with the home lot and half in quantity of the lot or pease of land that I lately bought of W. Chester, the homeward pease, and, to my son Luke the other half of that the line betwixt them running so that both may have the benefit of the water, furthermore to my son John that pease of meadow lying in mile meadow that I bought of William Smith and my 4 acres in Benner meadow also to my son Luke that pease of land in the great meadow with passage through his Brothers lands, also to give unto my daughter, Hanna Forty pounds with her Uncles gift, these portions to be paid to either of them at the age of eighteen years or at the death of my wife, which comes soonest, and my will is what estate is in her hands, beyond and above the foresaid portions at the time of her marriage that she divide the same equally among my aforesaid three children excepting thirds of all my household stuff and in case of any of my said children dye before they have issue then such lands & houses to remain to the surviving and his heirs and I do desire that Mr John Russell pastor of the church would together with the church appoint some to see this my will performed. Hereunto I have subscribed my hand the day & year above written

DESCENDANTS OF LUKE HITCHCOCK—BRANCH I.

DEACON JOHN² HITCHCOCK (*Luke*¹) son of Luke and Elizabeth (Gibbons) Hitchcock, was born — ; married Sept. 27, 1666, Hannah Chapin, dau. of Dea. Samuel and Cisly Chapin of the Plantation of Norwottuck. She was born Dec. 2, 1644. There is a record of June, 1655 that John Hitchcock received some land from his Uncle William Gibbons of Hartford, who is called in Hartford records a "London Merchant." "In order of Seating in the Meeting House, Feb. 23, 1662, Old Style, John Hitchcocke was put In ye Backer Seate above the Pillars on the North Side." He was sworn constable of Springfield in 1672. In 1676, May 19, he was wounded in the fight at Turner's Falls, one arm shot through and the other broken. Major Pynchon solicited the Governor to give Ensign John Hitchcock a lieutenant's commission for gallant conduct. He was Freeman in 1682. In 1686, Nov. 9, he was one of a committee for the "settlement of the town of Quaboag," now Brookfield; and in 1688 he was with five others sent to the relief of Brookfield and also "to make fortifications in Quaboag." He was a deacon in the church at Springfield. He died Feb. 9, 1712. His will is as follows :

I, John Hitchcock of Springfield, being weak in body but blessed bee God of sound mind & understanding. To the end I may Settle peace among my Relations after my decease and that Righteousness may bee attended with those I am concerned I do make ordain & constitute this my last Will & Testament in manner & form following, believing there is but one only & True God & that their are three persons United in the Godhead the father son & Holy Ghost &c &c. *

* * * And for the outward Estate which the Lord hath Graciously blessed me. I Despose of that as followeth.

To my well beloved wife I give the use of that room I do Now live in with the chamber over it & so much Cellaras she stands in need of Alsoe I do give to my Welbeloved wife the use and improvement of all my lands I am possest of Except those hereafter expressed as First.

It^m I give to my son John Hitchcock that house & homelot he does now live in alsoe two acres in the meadow which lyes betwixt his houselot & the Round hill on ye upper side of that meadow, As alsoe five acres in the plaine. Two acres in the Cross piece & next to that which is not improved, Alsoe one half of that which is not improved. Alsoe that piece which is Upland at Black Pond on the Westward side of the River & being upland as also half of my mill River Meadow with ye springs on this side ye sd Mill River Meadow and also half my meadow at ye sixteen acres and six acres up at Chicubee in that piece now in fence taking four acres next to the great River and then to take six acres together.

It^m I give to my son Samuel Hitchcock all the rest of my house I now live in with so much of the Cellar as his mother can spare and so much of the barn as his mother can spare above ye half of it, as also five acres of Upland in the plain next to the Great River and alsoe two acres in the meadow against my house and alsoe my upper lot in ye neck and ye half of my Mill River meadow and half my meadow at sixteen acres. And my will is that those meadows be divided equally as to Quantity and Quality as near as may be as also four acres in Chicubee next to the Great River and more. Two acres next to his Brother John on the East side of his Brothers land, and that any of my said sons having need of a way to their land shall have passable way where it is Judged most convenient for them and less prejudicial to his kinsman or those that improve it, and also half the other land in the plain not Improved.

I give to my son Luke Hitchcock that house and homelot he now lives on as alsoe all the rest of my wood lot from his brother David's to the Eastward end as alsoe four acres of my land on Garden Brook and half of what will be within fence of my land in Chicubee plain after John and Samuel have theirs laid out.

I give to my son Nathaniel Hitchcock Twenty acres of my land in Chicubee Plain if he does ever come to improve it, as also my grant of land upon three corner meadow Brook so called. But if he should never come to enjoy it or if he should die without a child lawfully begot. Then those lands to be equally divided between Luke & David my two sons.

It^m I give to my son David Hitchcock the other half of my land upon Garden Brook as alsoe twenty acres in Chicubee plain and my right in the saw mill, & Mill & land, and stream at Skanungenuck and my will is that all my sons do enjoy all those several proportions herein set down at my decease, And my will is if my wife should marry again then that she should betake herself to a third of what land is not yet measured. And after the Decease of my Welbeloved Wife, my will is that my son John Hitchcock enjoy all that meadow by his house as alsoe the half of my land in the plain being the half which lies next to that I have willed to him already & my two lower lots in the neck and my lot at Black pond as alsoe a equall proportion of any outland belonging to me with the rest of his brethren. And my will is that my son Samuel Hitchcock shall have the rest of all my housing & homelot with the meadow excepting one acre at the rear or Easterly End which meadow is against ye homelot as alsoe my other two lots in the Neck and alsoe the other halfe of my land in the plain & his share and proportion of my outlands with ye, rest of his brethren where-ever I have any right. And my will is that my son David Hitchcock shall have the wood lot at the Easterly End of my house lot meadow as far as the highway that is on the easterly end of it and one acre of the meadow that belongs to the homestead and to lie at the North Easterly end of it as it may join to the said Wood lot. And also my will is that David Hitchcock my son shall not alienate or dispose of the wood lot & meadow herein given but only to his brothers or some of the family if he shall see cause to remove and sell.

And my will is that after my decease and wives that then all that three score acres of land that I am Possest of at Chicubee should be equally divided between my three sons (viz) Luke Nathaniel and David. And if any of them should die without issue then to fall equally to ye two next that do survive or if two should die without issue as Nathaniel & David then it shall fall to Luke Hitchcock my son & his heirs.

& My will is that my son Samuel should have all my cart & plow tackling that is to say one sett of them if there be a set left. And my will is that my daughter Hannah Parsons should have my great Kettle and so much of my movable goods as shall make up ten Pounds besides what she has already. And my will is that my Grandson John Hitchcock should have my Carbine gun & Cutlass, and my Grandson Samuel Hitchcock should have my Pistols and my grandson Jonathan Hitchcock should have my great gun, and my belt I give to my son Luke Hitchcock. And my will is that my two sons Nathaniel & my son David Hitchcock have twenty pounds apiece out of movable estate & if there be not enough to do that then that my two sons John and Samuel make it up to them in two years time after the decease of their Mother & my will is that every one should have their platters I did buy and put their names to & my intent is that what I give my Daughter Hannah Parsons & what my sons have out of moveables or if their brothers do pay this to them it shall be as in provision at town price & I appoint my sons John, Samuel, Luke & David Hitchcock executors of my estate." This will was signed Feb. 5, 17 $\frac{1}{2}$ & Ad. to Probate March 25, 1712. In the settlement of this estate the brothers increased the legacy left to their sister Hannah Parsons.

ENSIGN JOHN³ HITCHCOCK (*John*², *Luke*¹) son of Dea. John and Hannah (Chapin) Hitchcock, was born in Springfield, Mass., April 13, 1670. He married Sept. 24, 1691 Mary Ball, daughter of Samuel and Mary Ball of Springfield. In 1736 the general court granted to the survivors of the Fall's Fight of May 19, 1676 under Captain William Turner and their descendants, a township which in commemoration of the event was called Fall Town, now Bernardston. Ensign John Hitchcock received two shares in this grant in right of his father John² and father-in-law Samuel Ball of Springfield. In his will he gives: "To my wife Mary household goods & pertion of land while remaining as widow. To son John⁴ land received from my father John² Hitchcock, and right and interest in land in Fall's Fight township granted by Gen. Court to officers & soldiers in Fall's fight near Deerfield, I being one of the grantees in the township; also my great bible. To son Nathaniel musket & sword & cutlas. To son Samuel, French gun.

To dau. Mary Arms,	16£ 10s.
" Sarah Gun,	16£ 10s.
" Abigail King,	17£ 3s.
" Mary Sikes,	18£ 4s. 6d.
" Thankful Scott,	14£ 2s.
" Jerusha Warner,	13£ 7s.
" Margaret Cooley,	16£ 5s.

The reason why I give my daughters no more is because that I have advanced to each of them considerable sums toward their portions which with what I have here given them I determine to be their proportion of the estate.

Admitted to Probate Sept. 10, 1751.

LUKE³ HITCHCOCK (John², Luke¹) son of Dea. John and Hannah (Chapin) Hitchcock, was born in Springfield, Mass., March 23, 1674—5, and kept his residence there. He was a man of some prominence. We learn from the Hinman papers that: "Luke Hitchcock, John Stoddard, Henry Dwight, John Ashley & S. E. Pomeroy were appointed for the purpose of making a purchase of the Indians of what is now Sheffield, Great Barrington, etc.; and to divide the tract into lots admitting settlers, setting out lots for ministers and for schools.

This committee met at Springfield March 19, 1723, & received the names of 55 settlers; & upon the petition in 1722 of 177 persons to the Gen'l Assembly of Mass. for two townships upon the river 'Housatunnuk,' which was granted, the above committees were appointed & on the 25th of April, 1724, the Committee received a deed of land from the Indians, which includes several of the towns in the county of Berkshire. The consideration paid the Indians was £460, three barrels of cider and 30 quarts of rum."

On Nov. 4(?), 1699 he entered his intentions of marriage with Elizabeth Walker of Stratford, b. July 2, 1676. They were published the same day and married at Springfield, Mass. Nov. 3(?), 1699. He died April 1, 1752 and his widow Elizabeth died Oct. 21, 1765, æ. 89.

DAVID³ HITCHCOCK (*John*², *Luke*¹) son of Dea. John and Hannah (Chapin) Hitchcock, was born at Springfield, Mass., Feb. 7, 1678. He first settled in Enfield, then Mass. now Conn., where he married 1st, Feb. 7, 1705, Elizabeth (Mighill) Batt of Boston, widow of Paul Batt, whom she had married Feb. 13, 1700. Her child Paul had died in 1702 and her husband Paul Batt in 1703, when, as above, she married David Hitchcock of "Endfield." She died Sept. 11, 1715, and he, May 15, 1717, married, 2d, Mary Thomas. He removed to Springfield and from there to Brimfield, Mass. before 1727. For time and money expended in attendance at General Court in Boston in 1729 and June, 1731, the town voted him four shillings a day for himself and horse, amounting to two pounds. He was appointed Assessor at the first town meeting, March 16, 1731. At the drawing of public lands, 1732, he had 45th choice. He was a blacksmith, moderator of eleven town meetings, and for five years selectman of Brimfield. In 1742 he was the first schoolmaster on the town records, and for it received 7£, 10s., and continued schoolmaster for seven years. In his will, signed May 6, 1743, he mentions his son Jonathan, wife Mary and two daughters Anna and Phebe. He died April 28, 1762, in Monson, Mass.

FOURTH GENERATION AND CHILDREN.

JOHN⁴ HITCHCOCK (John³, John², Luke¹) son of Ensign John and Mary (Ball) Hitchcock, was born in Springfield, Mass., Dec. 14, 1692, and resided there. He married, Aug. 1, 1717, Abigail Stebbins, daughter of Samuel and Joanna (Lamb) Stebbins, who was born Nov. 30, 1695.

Both his grandfathers, Dea. John² Hitchcock and Samuel Ball were in the fight with the Indians at Turners Falls, May 18, 1676, and the General Court granted "to the survivors of the fight & the descendants of the others" a township which was called, in honor of the fight Fall Town, afterwards incorporated as Bernardston. John⁴ Hitchcock received his grandfather Ball's share. (See Holland's History Western Mass.) The township was about six miles square and had at that time not one inhabitant.

John⁴ Hitchcock appears to have been one of the one hundred and twenty-five persons for whom the town of Springfield laid out the east end of their town—four miles wide east and west, and twelve miles long north and south,—in three divisions, each person to have a lot in each division. The widest lot Pyncheon's one hundred and thirty rods wide and four miles long: the narrowest being eight feet. They called a rod sixteen feet.

Mention is made in his will which was signed March 14, 1774, and presented to the Probate court "First Tuesday in October being seventh day of s'd month 1777," of all his children except Miriam and Reuben. He gave to his son John all his land at Wilbraham, "being my lot in ye outward commons on the east side of the Great river, being about thirty rods in breadth and four miles in length." His wife Abigail outlived him.

HIS CHILDREN WERE:

SAMUEL⁴ HITCHCOCK (*Samuel*³, *John*², *Luke*¹) son of Samuel and Sarah (Weller) Hitchcock, was born at Springfield, Mass., Sept. 17, 1699. He lived at New Milford, Conn. and in New Marlboro, Mass. and died Feb. 9, 1774. Admitted to church in New Milford, Conn., March 19, 1726. He married 1st, Oct. 10, 1726, Rebecca Brownson, b. Feb. 14, 1708, of New Milford, Conn., who d. Dec. 5, 1727. He married, 2d, April 23, 1730, Deborah Mallory, who was born 1710 and died Jan. 23, 1809. She was a woman of wonderful courage and fortitude. Many stories are told of her pluck and bravery in driving drunken Indians away from her house. When she was over eighty years old she rode on horseback in one day from New Marlboro, Mass., to Wintonbury, Conn., now Bloomfield, about forty miles, and the same distance in a wagon in her 98th year, one year before her death. She probably died at the home of her son Dr. Caleb Hitchcock in Bloomfield, Conn. Ebenezer, Dan and Elizabeth were not mentioned in their father's will, which was admitted to probate April 5, 1774. It is supposed that the house built for this Samuel⁴ Hitchcock by his father Samuel³, is still standing. If so it is about 150 years old.

HIS CHILDREN WERE:

JOHN⁵ HITCHCOCK (*John*⁴, *John*³, *John*², *Luke*¹) son of John and Abigail (Stebbins) Hitchcock, was born in Springfield, Mass., April 21, 1722. He married in May, 1743, Thankful Burt, born in 1724, and both were admitted to the church in Wilbraham, Mass. from Springfield church by letter Nov. 18, 1744. He was Lieutenant in Capt. James Warriner's Company at the time of the Lexington alarm and was at Lexington and also at Ticonderoga and on pay roll of Capt. Cadwell's Co., Dec. 25, 1776. He was the first Deacon of the South Parish church Wilbraham. He was a man of great physical strength. We quote the following sketch: "Lieut. Hitchcock was an athlete as well as a deacon and a lieutenant. Had he lived in Greece he would have taken the highest prizes at the Olympic and Isthmian games. He was a man of prodigious muscular strength, agility and endurance. A man stopped by the field where he was at work and boasted of the speed of the horse he was riding. The Deacon told him that he could go to Springfield quicker than a horse. The man resolutely denied it. The Deacon gave a challenge. It was accepted and the Deacon won. He ran ten miles, beating the horse. He would lift a load of hay, such loads as were drawn then (in two wheeled carts) by getting under the axletree of the cart, and taking it on his shoulders in a stooping posture. He would turn a cart over by taking one end of the axletree with one hand.

When he was seventy years old, he came in to dinner and as usual, hung his hat on its nail on the summer." (A "summer" is a beam in the middle of a ceiling, supporting the floor above, and seen exposed in some old houses.) "He said to his wife, 'I am seventy years old today ; you remember that when we were first married I used to amuse you by taking my hat down with my toes. I wonder if I could do it now.' He sprang from the floor, caught the hat off with his toes, struck on his feet like a cat, hung up his hat again, turned to the table, asked a blessing and feasted.

He had double teeth in front. When he loaded grain in a cart, he would seize a bag with his teeth, and giving it a swing, throw it into the cart with the aid of a push with his knee. He would hold a ten-penny nail in his teeth, and break it off with his fingers. When he died all his teeth were sound. He said jocosely, that he did not know a man he could not whip—or run away from." His wife Thankful died, July 17, 1800. He died Oct. 11, 1807.

MARGARET⁵ HITCHCOCK (Samuel⁴, John³, John², Luke¹) daughter of Samuel and Ruth (Stebbins) Hitchcock, was born in Westfield, Mass., May 25, 1741. She married in Westfield, in 1762, Richard² Falley, (Richard¹) who was born Jan. 31, 1740, at Georgius River in the Province of Maine.

"Her husband's father was a native of the Isle of Guernsey, France. When he was eight years of age a French man of war touched at the island, and a whole school, himself included, was invited on board to take dinner in the cabin. When they came on deck the ship was out at sea, and the children were taken to Nova Scotia, and left there, to settle that new country.

Her husband, Richard Falley, Jr., when sixteen years old became a soldier and served in the French and Indian war. At the capture of Fort Edward, N. Y., he was made a prisoner by the Indians. He was adopted by one of the chiefs, taken to Montreal and finally bought by a lady for sixteen gallons of rum. By her he was sent home to Westfield, Mass. There he subsequently married Margaret Hitchcock, who was called 'a woman of uncommon nerve and energy.' She was one of the foremothers of Pres. Grover Cleveland. We next hear of her husband Richard Falley as commanding a company at the battle of Bunker Hill, and of her eldest son, Frederick, afterwards a Major, as his father's drummer; and he drummed all through the fight.

Immediately after the battle of Bunker Hill, Richard Falley was appointed superintendent of the Armory at Springfield, Mass. He held this position till after the war. Springfield muskets with 'R. Falley' on the locks were well known in those days and were esteemed good shooters by marksmen and hunters. He was a powerful man, and it is stated by a grandson, Dr. I. W. Falley, now resident in Hillsdale, Mich., he had heard his father say he had often seen him take a barrel of cider and lift it over the side of a cart as one would a small keg."

Richard² Falley died at Westfield, Mass., Sept. 3, 1808. His widow, Margaret (Hitchcock) Falley, died in Volney (now Fulton), N. Y., Feb. 11, or 18, 1820. The children of Margaret (Hitchcock) Falley were:

APOLLOS⁵ HITCHCOCK (Aaron^{*}, *Luke*³, *John*², *Luke*¹) son of Capt. Aaron and Experience (King) Hitchcock, was born in Suffield, Conn., March 8, 1759. He married, in Nov., 1781, Roxana King, daughter of Wm. King of Suffield, Conn., born Aug. 13, 1762, who died Sept. 14, 1830. He was a surveyor and one of the first settlers of Cheektowaga, N. Y. in 1808. "Apollos, son of Aaron, lived with his father in Suffield for ten years after his marriage; but becoming discontented he persuaded his brother-in-law, Alexander King, to take his place in the old homestead. Leaving his family in Suffield he went to Charleston, S. C., after indigo which he sold to pedlars. He also speculated in land. Acquiring a taste for travel he finally went to Europe with a cargo of indigo, which was wrecked. The loss was so great as to seriously involve him and make it necessary for him to go again to Europe, where he remained three years. During this time he travelled in France and England and while there found traces which led him to believe that the Hitchcock family originally came from Wales.

He then settled in Hartford, Conn., and kept tavern until 1806. He then moved to Schenectady where he kept a public house about two years and then went to Buffalo which at this time contained only twenty houses, mostly log cabins. For two years he lived in Buffalo and then moved to the farm in Cheektowaga which is now in possession of the family. It was then an almost unbroken wilderness, his settlement being the first east of Buffalo. Here he built a distillery and saw mill; and later, a grist mill. The family were called Cheektawas by the Indians, from the little clearing in which they built their house abounding in wild plums and an endless variety of wild flowers. The town was afterward named Cheektowaga, signifying the place of fruit and flowers."

JUDGE SAMUEL⁵ HITCHCOCK (Noah⁴, Nathaniel³, John², Luke¹) son of Noah and Mary (Burt) Hitchcock, was born in Brimfield, Mass., March 23, 1755. He graduated at Harvard in 1777; and became a lawyer. He married May 26, 1789, Lucy Caroline Allen, second daughter of Col. Ethan Allen. This marriage was the first one put upon Burlington town records. He resided in Burlington, Vt., until 1794 when he removed to Vergennes where he lived until 1806 when he returned to Burlington. Chapter 10, p. 142 of H. P. Smith's "History of Addison County, Vermont," gives the following sketch of Judge Samuel Hitchcock :

"Hon. Samuel Hitchcock, the fourth son of Noah and Mary Hitchcock, and grandson of David Hitchcock, one of the original settlers of Brimfield, Hampshire County, Mass., was born in Brimfield, March 23, 1755. He fitted for college with Rev. James Bridgham, a graduate of Harvard University in 1726. * * * He was graduated at Harvard University in 1777. After his graduation he read law at Brookfield, Worcester County, Mass., with the late Hon. Jedediah Foster, and was, probably, admitted to the practice of the law at Worcester. About 1786 Samuel Hitchcock removed to Burlington, Vt., where he commenced the practice of his profession. He was the first State's attorney appointed in Chittenden County and held the office from 1787 to 1790 inclusive. He represented the town from 1789 to 1793 inclusive. He was a member of the convention of delegates of the people of the State of Vermont, held at Bennington Jan. 10, 1791, to ratify the constitution of the United States, which had been submitted by an act of the Vermont Legislature passed Oct. 27, 1790. The charter of the University of Vermont, which was granted by the General Assembly, Nov. 3, 1791, is said to have been drafted by Samuel Hitchcock, while the main features of it were furnished by another alumnus of Harvard University, the Rev. Samuel Williams, D. D., of Rutland. Samuel Hitchcock was elected one of the trustees from the start and continued to hold that office until his death. He was secretary of the corporation from 1791 to 1800, when he was succeeded by the Rev. Daniel Clark Saunders, D. D., president of the University. Dr. Wheeler, in his historical discourse, says that the creative mind of Dr. Samuel Williams and the reflective and profound mind of Judge Hitchcock had worked for the University of Vermont and in it. He was elected attorney-general of Vermont under the act of October, 1790, and was succeeded in 1793 by the Hon. Daniel Buck, of Norwich. Samuel Hitchcock and Lemuel Chipman, of Pawlet, were the presidential electors at large from Vermont at the second presidential election in 1793. Lott Hall, of Westminster, and Paul Brigham, of Norwich, were their colleagues in the first electoral college in Vermont, and all were appointed by the Legislature in 1792, and they cast the vote of Vermont at Windsor for George Washington and John Adams. In 1797 the second general revision of the laws was completed by a committee consisting of Roswell Hopkins, of Vergennes; Richard Whiting, of Brattleboro; Nathaniel Chipman, of Tinmouth, and Samuel Hitchcock (then of Vergennes). Samuel Hitchcock was judge of the District Court of the United States for the district of Vermont, and judge of the Circuit Court of the second circuit of the United States, receiving his appointment from President John Adams, and going out of that office when the judiciary act was repealed. Judge Hitchcock's scholarship was of a superior order, and as a lawyer he ranked among the foremost in New England. He was endowed with a large measure of benevolence and admirable social qualities. As a conversationalist he was unrivaled for humor and brilliant repartee. His personal appearance was dignified and commanding. He had a light complexion and sharp blue eyes, and to a handsome person of medium size and height he added polished manners and a pleasing address."

He died in Burlington, Vt., March 30, 1813 and his widow Lucy, Aug. 27, 1842, æ. 74.

In the same volume (pp. 640—701) is given a history of the city of Vergennes where Samuel Hitchcock lived from 1794 to 1806. From this it appears that the town of Vergennes became a city in 1794, the first city officers being elected in July, 1794, and in connection with this appears the following statement (p. 658) :

"The records of the Court of Common Council show a respect for a strict construction of the charter law, that has not always since been apparent. When, a few months later, Samuel Hitchcock moved from Burlington to Vergennes, and became associated with the picked men elected to fill the city offices, Vergennes could boast of as large a number of strong minded and accomplished men as ever graced a country village. Samuel Hitchcock, who had married a daughter of Ethan Allen, and was himself the peer of any lawyer of his day, lived for several years in a house standing on the ground now occupied by the Catholic Church."

"Died in this village on the 30th inst., æ. 80, Mr. Samuel Hitchcock, one of our oldest and most respected inhabitants. Although for years he was not engaged in active business, his venerable form was daily seen in our streets, and always in the house of God when open for worship. His delight in serving the Lord was most evident. His piety was cheerful and active. He lived—although in comfortable health—in the constant expectation of being called away, and was therefore, when struck down by apoplexy, ready, and after sixteen hours of illness, he entered into his rest. With heartfelt emotions we say of him, 'Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.' "

HON. HENRY⁶ HITCHCOCK (*Samuel*⁵, *Noah*⁴, *Nathaniel*³, *John*², *Luke*¹) son of Judge Samuel and Lucy Caroline (Allen) Hitchcock, was born in Burlington, Vt., Sept. 19, 1792. "He graduated at the University of Vermont with honor in 1811. The death of his father left him with care of farm and family on his hands, but he managed to get time for a thorough legal education. He then, in 1816, went to St. Stephens, near Mobile, and then a part of Mobile Territory, where he gained the highest reputation as a lawyer and where he made money. In 1819 he was appointed Attorney General for Alabama and later moved to Mobile. He successively filled the offices of District Attorney, Justice of the Supreme Court (of Alabama) and later Chief Justice. Speculations in real estate now took much of his time and gave him a property of over half a million of dollars." He married in Oct., 1821, Anne Erwin, dau. of Colonel Andrew Erwin of Nashville, Tenn. She was born in Ashville, N. C., in 1803 and d. at St. Louis, 1854. He had eight children of whom four died in infancy and one in youth.

"In 1835, at 43 years of age he was baptized, made profession of faith and became a member of the Presbyterian church. He died Aug. 11, 1839, of yellow fever." His personal friend, Gen. Grandey of Alabama, says of him: "He was the best known, the most beloved, the most distinguished, the ablest, the most worthy and the most popular man in Alabama during the last ten years of his life."

Melvin L. Gray, Esq., of the St. Louis Bar states that "early in September, 1839, he went to Alabama and well remembers that the newspapers throughout the state were then "in mourning"—their columns bordered with heavy black lines—for his recent death, which was universally spoken of as a great public calamity."

HIS CHILDREN WERE:

- i. CAROLINE LORAIN⁷, b. April 8, 1825, at Mobile, Ala.; m. March, 1857, Dr. Samuel G. DeCamp, Surgeon U. S. A., March, 1857; d. in 1863, leaving one dau. Anna Erwin⁸ DeCamp, now wife of Leo A. He entered the army as 3d Lieut. of Artillery, June 17, 1817; Brevet Colonel, Aug. 20, 1847, for gallant and meritorious conduct at Contreras and Churubusco; Brevet Brig. Gen., Sept. 8, 1847, for gallant and meritorious conduct at Molino del Rey. About 1850 he resigned and became a civil engineer. When the Rebellion broke out he offered his sword again to the government and was promoted to rank of Major General and served most of the war. He was Commissioner for the exchange of prisoners and Military Advisor to President Lincoln's Cabinet from '61 to '63. "He was then an old man but of superb figure as erect and fine looking a man as one would care to see." He was afterwards stationed at San Francisco, and for several years Commander of the Pacific Coast; but his health failing he resigned and went South. He was the author of eight or ten published books and for his literary gifts was called the "pen of the army." He married in 1868 Miss Martha Nichols at Washington, D. C. He died Aug. 5, 1870, at Sparta, Ga., leaving no children. For additional items especially his literary labors see "Johnson's Encyclopedia."

SAMUEL ENOCH⁶ HITCHCOCK (Enoch⁵, John⁴, Nathaniel³, John², Luke¹) son of Enoch and Jane (Dunn) Hitchcock, was born in Oneida Co., N. Y., June, 1798. When ten years old his parents moved to Niagara Co., where he lived until 1840, probably at Gasport, where his only child, a daughter of his 2d wife was born. He married 1st, Widow Smedley, 2d, Miss Sophia Worthington and 3d, Mrs. Samantha Farwell of Sandusky, O. "Many relatives of his 2d wife," so writes a friend, "were left orphans and he took care of them. We have often heard him remark that he had brought up fourteen orphan children who call him father." He removed to Sandusky City, O. and was there in 1849 when the cholera broke out. In that city of then from 5000 to 7000 inhabitants over 100 person died in three days. Fully half the people left their homes by the two lines of railroad south and the three lines of steamers to Cleveland, Toledo and Detroit. There was no railroad then to Cleveland. Rev. John Fisher, pastor of the Presbyterian church died and his remains were reverently placed in an unpainted coffin and Dea. Hitchcock and Henry Marsh, Esq., were the only persons who accompanied the remains to the grave and saw them properly buried. Dea. Hitchcock was heroic in care for the dying and the dead and proved himself one of those dauntless Christian men whom such an occasion brings to the front. For some days as our markets were forsaken we had to telegraph in the morning for our dinners which Cleveland sent free by the steamboat. Then Cincinnati moved her cholera hospital to Sandusky and in a few days sixty physicians came from different parts of Ohio.

"In 1861 Dea. Hitchcock moved to Alpena, Mich., having purchased a tract of land where a large part of the city now stands. Six months after arriving here he was instrumental in organizing the first church in the county which consisted of eight members, he being one of the deacons until his death. The first meetings were held in a hall where to call the people together the Deacon suspended a part of a circular saw for a bell and made it ring by striking it with a hammer.

"He was one of the early anti-slavery men of this country and will be long remembered by the early actors in that movement as wise in council and firm in action, yet never offensive in speech or uncharitable to the motives of others." He died at Alpena, Feb. 9, 1881.

"Alonzo Hitchcock the well known inventor died at his home in Beekman place on Wednesday, æ. 71. He went to N. Y. City 23 years ago and engaged in the manufacture of heavy mining machinery, notably the Idaho quartz crusher and the reversible Cornish roll. When Sir William Armstrong was perfecting his now famous gun, Mr. Hitchcock was suggesting the Hitchcock gun, which was made of wrought iron, or low steel rings welded in the furnace. It was to be moved by compressed air. The works are still standing at Springfield Armory, but idle since 1875 as the appropriation ran out. During the war Mr. Hitchcock originated the Ryan revolving fort. The government is now considering the construction of a similar iron fort. Mr. Hitchcock felt proudest of inventing the 'Vox humana' for tremolo, now used by all large organ makers. He was an early friend of Abraham Lincoln." He had 1, HARLYN⁸, b. CHESTER⁷ HITCHCOCK (*Prentice*⁶, *Luke*⁵, *Luke*⁴, *Luke*³, *John*², *Luke*¹) son of Prentice and Belinda (Brace) Hitchcock, was born in Stanbridge, Canada, June 11, 1810. He died in 1892.

"His boyhood was spent on the farm in Canada. When a young man he came west to Rockford, Ill. and engaged in mercantile business. He was also in Michigan City, while still a young man, in a similar business. A few years later he went to Buffalo, N. Y. and became interested in grain commission and shipping.

He was married there in 1849 to Elizabeth Matters. Their children, Charles and Ida were twins, born in Buffalo in 1852. Charles died in 1857. His death was a great blow to his father who had centered all his plans in him. In 1858 he moved to La Porte, Ind. and soon to Belvidere, Ill. He was at this time engaged in business in Chicago. Later he lived in Toledo, O. and then again in Buffalo in 1863. In a year or two he returned to Chicago where for many years he was interested in dealing in grain.

In 1870 he went with his wife and daughter to California, but made it only his winter home, returning each year to his business in Chicago.

After 1880 he spent his summers almost entirely at his farm near Rockford, Ill. called 'Black Hawk Springs.' This place he owned for many years and enjoyed better than any other, especially on account of its fine water.

In character he was energetic and genial and always anxious to be helpful to others. Though he lived to be 82 years old, he was very active and as healthy as a child to the last. He was quite as interested in the progress of the world, and in minor matters, as though he were a young man. His acquaintance throughout the parts of the country in which he had lived at different times was extensive. One who has known him well for many years, says of him, 'I have known Mr. Hitchcock since I was a boy, and I have never known him to do an unkind or ungenerous deed or to speak unkindly to or of any one.' "

DR. ALFRED⁷ HITCHCOCK (David⁶, Eldad⁵, Moses⁴, Nathaniel³, John², Luke¹) son of David and Hannah (Owen) Hitchcock, was born in Westminster, Vt., Oct. 17, 1814. He married 1st, Fidelia Dorcas Clark, daughter of Barnabas Clark of Westminster, Vt.

She died Dec. 1, 1849. He married 2d, Jan. 1, 1851, Aurelia Phebe Wellman, born July 13, 1820, daughter of Dea. James Ripley and Phebe (Wyman) Wellman of Cornish, N. H., where the family lived upon land taken up by the Rev. James Wellman who was graduated from Harvard in 1743. She died Nov. 28, 1862. In 1865 he married 3d, Miss Ellen Clark of Brattleboro, Vt. He received the degree of M. D. from Dartmouth college in 1844, and also from Middlebury college. He began the practice of medicine in Ashby, Mass., and soon gained a reputation by his sagacity in diagnosis, and his skill as an operator. After a few years he removed to Fitchburg, Mass., and his professional career thereafter was one of marked distinction. In the later years of his life he was recognized as the leading surgeon of that section of Massachusetts. He was the second surgeon on record to perform the operation of oesophagotomy, and he began to operate for strangulated hernia at a time when the operation was regarded by most members of his profession as entirely impracticable. His first subject was one who had been given up by the attendant physician. Dr. Hitchcock designed a stretcher, a surgical chair and some splints, made two valuable changes in surgical instruments and discovered two medical preparations, placing them at the service of the public in accordance with the ethics of his profession. He also took an active interest in sanitary medicine and questions of public health. Dr. Hitchcock was elected to the Massachusetts legislature for several terms between 1847 and 1855, and he was a member of the executive council from 1862-64, and closely associated with Gov. John A. Andrew. At one time he was appointed a special agent of the state to superintend the care of the wounded, and visited the Southern battle-fields, and in 1864 he directed the transportation of the Massachusetts wounded. Some account of his services is given in Schouler's History of Massachusetts in the Rebellion. For a time he was an overseer of Harvard University. After the war Dr. Hitchcock retired from public life, devoting himself to his professional duties which became engrossing, although he found time to gratify his fine literary tastes, and also to take a leading part in the foundation of a church and in other religious and civic duties. His writings were never collected, but he wrote much and well throughout his life. In addition to various monographs and addresses he published "Christianity and Medical Science," (Boston, 1867.) He died in Fitchburg, Mass., March 30, 1874."

HIS CHILDREN WERE :

He entered Harvard University with honors in 1873 and was graduated in 1877, afterward taking a special course in fine arts and philosophy. He removed to New York in 1879, and spent a year in professional studies and in literary work, which obtained encouraging recognition, and thereafter he devoted himself entirely to literary pursuits. Since then New York has been his place of residence. He has contributed to a number of periodicals, including the Century and St. Nicholas, chiefly on art topics, literary criticism, and outdoor life, and as the art critic of the "Tribune" for eight years, showed keen insight, fine taste, and fearlessness in the expression of his opinions. Among his published works are "The Western Art Movement" (1885); "A Study of George Inness," (1885); "Etching in America." Mr. Hitchcock also furnished the letter press for the following volumes: "Some Modern Etchings" (1884); "Recent American Etchings" (1885); "Notable American Etchings," (1886); "Representative American Etchings," (1887); "Important New Etchings by American Artists, with text," (1888); "Madonnas by Old Masters," photo-gravures with text (1888); "Water Color Painting in America," (1889); and "American Painters in Water Colors," (1890). He contributed the articles on Trout and Salmon Fishing to the Century Company's "Book of Sports," and other published writings on various phases of out-door life, including many articles on the West and Canada, have gained considerable recognition. He has edited the following works among others: "The Life of an Artist," by Jules Breton; "The Last Words of Thomas Carlyle"; and "The Art of the World," as illustrated at the Columbian Exposition. He was one of the early members of the Authors Club. Since 1890 he has been the literary adviser of D. Appleton & Co. Has one child Roger Wolcott, born June 21, 1887.

COMMANDER ROSWELL DWIGHT⁸ HITCHCOCK, U. S. N. (*Rev. Roswell Dwight*⁷, *Roswell*⁶, *Samuel*⁵, *Samuel*⁴, *John*³, *John*², *Luke*¹) son of Dr. Roswell Dwight and Elizabeth Anthony (Brayton) Hitchcock, was born in Fall River, Mass., Oct. 30, 1845, and married in Baltimore, Md., Sept. 26, 1871, Mary Elizabeth Higgins. He died in New York City, Dec. 3, 1892. The following notice is from a Fall River paper: "Commander R. D. Hitchcock, U. S. N., who died in New York on Saturday last, was well known to many of our citizens of middle age, a considerable portion of his boyhood having been passed at the old Durfee homestead, No. 72, North Main street, with his cousin, the late Bradford M. C. Durfee. Commander Hitchcock was born in this very house, and with singular appropriateness he will be taken to his last resting place from the same house to-morrow morning. Commander Hitchcock entered the Naval Academy at the outbreak of the civil war, graduated in 1865 and at the time of his death had attained the rank of commander. He was in constant active service from the day of his graduation to the day of his death. During this period he made two cruises to China and the East, three to the Mediterranean, served three years in the coast survey, three years in the light house service, as inspector, and engaged in a government survey of the Isthmus of Darien for a ship canal. He was of the party of officers representing our government in 1883 at the formal opening of Corea to diplomatic and commercial intercourse with civilized states. While on coast survey service, in 1876, he discovered a fountain of fresh water in the ocean about ten miles off St. Augustine, Florida. Commander Hitchcock's energy, sagacity and good judgment marked him out as a man peculiarly fitted for delicate government duty, and in the summer of 1891 he was selected for service against the seal poachers in Behring Sea. Although suffering from a disorder growing out of illness contracted in the line of service, he insisted on serving this important cruise, and at its completion was ordered for a year's service in China to protect American citizens in case of an uprising. At the termination of his cruise he returned to his home, where, after a short three weeks he closed his life in the midst of his family and friends. The funeral took place at Madison Square church on Tuesday, the escort consisting of a battalion of marines and sailors under Comdr. Ide."

CAPT. LUKE² HITCHCOCK (*Luke*¹) son of Luke and Elizabeth (Gibbons) Hitchcock of Wethersfield, Conn., was born at Wethersfield, June 5, 1655. After the death of his father and on the marriage of his mother to William Warriner of Springfield he removed to that place. He became a prominent man of Springfield, Mass., where he kept a tavern. He was also a shoemaker and a captain in the army and was made sheriff of Hampshire County, which then included Hampden, Franklin and Berkshire counties. The history of Suffield, Conn. says that he was one of the original grantees of that town, and in 1680 he had 50 acres of land allotted to him there. In 1717 he was one of the rate payers in the town of Brookfield where he seems to have owned a good deal of land, though no mention of that land is made in his will. He was also one of the petitioners for a grant of land in Brimfield. The records of Massachusetts Bay Colony read: "May 30, 1679, in answer to the petition of Luke Hitchcock the Court judgeth it meet to grant the petitioner tenne pounds to be payed forthwith by the county treasurer deducting the same from Hadley account." When under age in 1673 he chose his brother John to be his guardian. In 1676 he was in the fight with the Indians at Turner's Falls and he had a share in the township of Falltown, granted to the survivors of that fight.

Hinman says of "Sergeant Luke Hitchcock," "On the 30th of Nov., 1693, by vote of Springfield, Capt. Thos. Colton and Luke Hitchcock was sent to the Bay to procure a minister to preach the word of God to the town; to apply to Mr. Increase Mather and the rest of the Rev'd. Elders in Boston for their help to obtain a minister."

He married, Feb. 14, 1676-7, Sarah, daughter of Jonathan Burt, widow of Benjamin Dorchester. She was born Sept. 4, 1656; married April 22, 1675, Benjamin Dorchester, who died May 24, 1676. She died Nov. 9, 1746, "in ye 91 year of her age." We find upon a Springfield gravestone, "Here rests the body of Luke Hitchcock, Esq., who after he had served God and his generation in several publick offices deceased Jan. 24, 1727, in ye 72 year of his age."

By his will, signed May 26, 1722, and probated May 16, 1727, he left the use of half his house and meadow, etc., to his wife so long as she bear his name; to his son "Luke 7 acres of land lying on the west side of the great river, lying in the division of land which is on the great hill near the plain called Lucca Swamp, also my grant at Wachuset sometimes called Wachoga; to Eben half the meadow at the World's End commonly so called also one day of my saw mill with all the privileges and appurtenances thereto belonging also piece of land by Agawam River.

To Peletiah half the meadow at World's End also one day of my sawmill."

To daus. Sarah, Elizabeth, Mercy, Hannah, Thankful and Mary money to be paid in household stuff, etc., etc.

CAPT. EBENEZER³ HITCHCOCK (*Luke*², *Luke*¹) son of Capt. Luke and Sarah (Dorchester) Hitchcock, was born Aug. 24, 1694, at Springfield. He was a soldier in the French wars and was in the Louisburg expedition in Col. Dwight's regiment. He received his commission as lieutenant from Governor Shirley at Louisburg, June 28, 1745, just after the fall of that famous fortress. In 1747 he was selectman of Springfield. He married Feb. 14, 1716, Mary Sheldon who was the mother of his fourteen children. A record in the handwriting of her son, the Rev. Gad Hitchcock, reads "My Hond. Mother, Mary Hitchcock, died at Springfield, January ye 8th, 1760." She was the daughter of Joseph Sheldon of Sheffield, who was a representative to the general court in 1708, and a direct descendant of Archbishop Gilbert Sheldon of Canterbury, England. The mother of Mary Sheldon was Mary, daughter of Capt. Joseph Whiting, treasurer of Connecticut for thirty-nine years, having succeeded his father, William Whiting, who had held the office for thirty-seven years and being followed by his son who continued the treasurership in the family for thirty-two years more. The wife of Joseph Whiting was Mary, daughter of the Hon. John Pyncheon of Springfield.

In 1735, Ebenezer Hitchcock received from the Pyncheon estate three hundred and seventy-nine pounds, being the rest of his wife's fortune from that source.

The wife of John Pyncheon of Springfield, Mass., was Amy, daughter of George Wyllys, the second governor of Connecticut, a man of wealth and a Puritan of the Puritans. In 1638, he sent his steward, William Gibbons with twenty men to prepare a home for him and a year later took possession of the Wyllys estate in Hartford on which stood the tree to become the famous Charter Oak of a later generation. The sister of William Gibbons married Luke Hitchcock, the ancestor of Ebenezer Hitchcock, and as shown Gov. Wyllys was the ancestor of his wife, Mary Sheldon.

Ebenezer Hitchcock married for his second wife, the Widow Mary Morgan of Brimfield, Mass., who outlived him. She died April 25, 1785. The Rev. Gad Hitchcock records "My Hond. Father died Jan. 18, 1776." His will gave to his wife Mary £6 lawful money to be paid as soon as may be; to Gad £3; to Ebenezer 5 shillings to be paid in four years; to his daughter Ann wife of Jonathan Chapin, Mary, wife of Hezekiah Warriner and Silence, wife of Samuel Bliss, £10 each; to daughter Sarah £14; to four children of his daughter Dinah Sykes deceased 50 shillings each; to Abner, Joseph and Seth land in Springfield; the rest of his property to Phineas and Stephen, they not having already received their portion.

REV. GAD⁴ HITCHCOCK, D. D., (Ebenezer³, Luke², Luke¹) son of Capt. Ebenezer and Mary (Sheldon) Hitchcock, was born Feb. 12, 1719, at Springfield, Mass. He was graduated at Harvard College in 1743. On the 29th of February, 1747 the parish of Pembroke, Mass. voted to settle "Mr. Gad Hitchcock in the ministry if he can be had." His ordination was arranged for "the first Wednesday in October, 1748 and Elijah Cushing, Esq., to have one hundred pounds old tenor for providing the entertainment." Mr. Cushing provided New England rum as was the custom and one good brother being brought before the church "for undue and profane words" excused himself on the ground that he "drank so much rum at the ordination of Mr. Gad Hitchcock" that he was not responsible for his words. The settlement was for life and on the 22nd of December, 1748, Mr. Hitchcock was married to Dorothy, daughter of Samuel and Dorothy (Avery) Angier of Cambridge. Samuel Angier was the son of the Rev. Samuel Angier and Hannah, only daughter of Urian Oakes, fourth president of Harvard College. Mather said of Oakes that he was "as a theologian deservedly famous, a truly charming orator, a learned and orthodox pastor of a church at Cambridge, a most sagacious president of Harvard college, a recipient of the highest commendations for piety, learning and eloquence." Samuel Angier's grandfather was Edmund Angier, who married Ruth, only daughter of William Ames, D. D., "of famous memory." Dr. Ames was a fellow of Christ College; was driven from England for non-conformity; was sent by the States General of Holland to the Synod of Dort to "aid the president of the synod by his suggestions." He was the author of the "Medulla Theologiae" and other works and was professor of the university of Franeker. His portrait painted in 1633 hangs in Memorial Hall, Cambridge. Mrs. Hitchcock's lineage was equally illustrious on her mother's side. Her grandfather was Dr. Jonathan Avery and her grandmother, Sybil (Sparhawk) Avery, after the death of her young husband married the Rev. Michael Wigglesworth, who wrote "The Day of Doom." Their son, the Rev. Edward Wigglesworth was for fifty years professor of divinity at Harvard. Sybil Sparhawk's mother was Patience, daughter of the Rev. Samuel Newman, who led his people into the wilderness and founded a town which he called Rehoboth, because his flock might now say "The Lord has made room for us and we shall be fruitful in the land." He was the author of the first concordance of the Bible and in the words of Cotton Mather "was a very living preacher and a very preaching liver."

REV. GAD HITCHCOCK, D. D.

On the 2d of November, 1749, was born to Gad and Dorothy Hitchcock their only child, Gad Hitchcock, the second. In December, Mr. Hitchcock bought a house that is still standing and seventeen acres of land. Here he passed his days and here he died full of years and honors. The only absence of any length was in 1758 when as chaplain of Col. Doty's regiment he followed the fortunes of war and shared in its fighting and its marching.

His services were in constant demand. In 1765 he preached the election sermon before that select body known as "the ancient and honorable artillery." In 1771, on the occasion of the ordination of the Rev. Enos Hitchcock at Beverly his text was I Cor. ix: 19.

"For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all that I might gain the more." In his sermon he affirmed that "a slavish submission to human creeds and formularies, and a trembling concern to make them the basis of our discourses to the people, is degrading to the sacred character, an affront to the scriptures of truth, and a contradiction of the fundamental principles of protestantism."

Once or twice he narrowly escaped being disciplined on account of his heretical doctrines.

In May, 1774, he was called upon to deliver the election sermon in the Old South Church before the legislature and the governor, being the occasion of the "Election of His Majesty's Council for the said Province."

The fierce excitement and spirit of resistance that preceded the out-break of the Revolution had reached its height. The tea had already gone overboard in Boston Harbor and blood was soon to flow at Lexington. "Pembroke had been among the foremost towns in indignant protest and threats against the tyrannical action of the royal government, and the preacher's whole heart was with his people" whose ideas he had helped to mould. He had chosen for his text, Prov. xxix: 2, "When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn." "The very text was like a trumpet call to battle. Fresh from the people whose excitement and indignation he shared, he arose in the presence of the hushed assemblage and launched full on the bosom of the astonished Governor 'When the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.'"

He gave an outline of the condition of affairs in America and added "If I am mistaken in supposing that plans are formed, and executing subversive of our natural and charter rights and privileges and incompatible with every idea of liberty, all America is mistaken with me." He boldly defended the right of revolution and called on the people to be careful of their civil and religious liberties.

Governor Gage was filled with great wrath on account of the boldness of this position. Dr. Hitchcock in after years said: "It was doubtless a most moving discourse, in as much as it moved many of the congregation from the house," referring to some of the governor's party who left the church in their indignation. After listening to the sermon, the legislature ordered it printed and then proceeded to elect councillors in full accord with the preacher's advice. Governor Gage negatived thirteen of them, and adjourned the legislature to meet at Salem, June 17, as a punishment and as a means of keeping them from coming together. At Salem, he again adjourned them, but they locked the doors, refused the governor's messenger admission and transacted their business in spite of him. Such sermons had something to do with the Revolution.

Gad Hitchcock served as chaplain, but was not commissioned. He was elected, July 12, 1779, a member of the convention to make a constitution for Massachusetts. The convention met in 1780 and formed the constitution under which Massachusetts was governed till 1820.

In 1787 he received the degree of D. D. from Harvard College. He wore a wig as white as snow. He was a sociable, witty and cheerful man and rather improvident, which was a trial to his high spirited wife. He owned several slaves, some of whom insisted in remaining with him after they were free and they became a great care.

DOROTHY ANGIER HITCHCOCK.

The following record remains in the hand writing of his son : " My honored mother died Aug. 6, 1792, after an indisposition of four months in the seventy-ninth year of her age. My honored father died Aug. 8, 1803, after an indisposition and confinement of four years. He was in the 85th year of his age and the 58th of his ministry." The church voted " That the parish procure a pair of tombstones for the Rev. Gad Hitchcock."

He married 1st, March 22, 1744, Margaret Burt, and 2d, May 11, 1749, Sarah Knowlton. All his children were by his second wife and were born in Springfield. He settled in Ludlow, Mass. The first town meeting in Ludlow was held at his house March 16, 1774. He was one of a committee appointed Jan. 10, 1775, to see what penalty should be attached to the taking of deer. He was a soldier under Capt. Walker for eight months from May, 1775 and served that year at the Lexington alarm. At a town meeting held at his house in 1776 he was appointed to apply to the neighboring ministry to see if they can give us a day's preaching. He removed to Marshall, Oneida Co., N. Y., probably before 1798, as he married 3d, Widow Martha McConnell of that place, and lived with her five years and died at Marshall in 1803.

COL. DANIEL⁴ HITCHCOCK (*Ebenezer*³, *Luke*², *Luke*¹) son of Ebenezer and Mary (Sheldon) Hitchcock, was born Feb. 15, 1739 in Springfield. He graduated at Yale in 1761, and went into the study and practice of law at Northampton, Mass., but soon removed to Providence, Rhode Island. "He was a fine scholar of refined taste and elegant manners, in fact a finished gentleman of the old school." He was a colonel in the "Army of Observation," in the war of the revolution, serving from the summer of 1775 to 1777. At the siege of Boston he commanded the 11th Rhode Island regiment which comprised 380 men. The Long Island Hist. Soc. memoirs state: "June 1st, Col. Greene, assigned the different regiments to position in the work around Brooklyn; Col. Hitchcock's regiment to take Ft. Putnam and the Fort or redoubt on the left of it for their alarm posts. In case of an attack all these posts are to be defended to the last extremity." He was in the battle of Harlem Heights. He was with Washington when he surprised and captured the Hessians at Trenton, Dec., 1777. He caught a violent cold in that storm which terminated his life in a few days. He commanded a brigade at Princeton, though then suffering from the illness which resulted in his death soon after. "Col. Hitchcock, who temporarily succeeded Nixon in the command of the brigade, received, the thanks of Washington for himself and his men in front of Princeton College for their aid and conduct in action. He died in camp at Morristown, N. J., Jan. 13, 1777, and was buried by the Philadelphia and Delaware light infantry companies under Rodney with all the honors of war."

He made a nuncupative will a few days before his death which was as follows:

"I give one-half of my estate to the Benevolent Congregational Society in Providence. Remainder to be equally divided between my brethren."

This will was proved by the Court of Probate of Providence and administration granted to carry it into effect.

Col. Hitchcock was a cousin of the Rev. Dr. Enos Hitchcock, so many years pastor of the Benevolent Congregational Society of Providence. He never married.

CAPT. DAVID⁴ HITCHCOCK (*Peletiah*³, *Luke*², *Luke*¹) son of Peletiah and Sarah (Parsons) Hitchcock, was born about 1741. He married, pub. Dec. 17, 1763, Martha Keyes of Western now Warren, Mass. He settled in Brookfield and kept a hotel in what is now known as West Brookfield. It is said that "The Old Hitchcock Tavern, now known as the West Brookfield House, was built in 1760 by Capt. David Hitchcock and occupied by him till 1811. Washington dined there in 1789 while on his way to Boston. The building at that time was of two stories with a gambrel roof and a small porch over the front door. Until Brookfield was divided this tavern was the meeting place for the selectmen and all records were kept there. Hollis Hitchcock, son of Capt. David, occupied this house from 1811 to 1816 and Charles M. Hitchcock from 1823 to 1827."

He held the commission of Captain as given by Gov. John Hancock and rendered great service in the revolutionary war. He was a noble and public spirited man. "He gave to the town of Brookfield '3 acres more or less' of land for a common to remain in the possession of the town so long as it was used for that purpose. This is what is now the common at West Brookfield." He died July 14, 1814, æ. 73. Martha his wife died Jan. 14, 1821, æ. 78.

REV. ENOS⁴ HITCHCOCK (*Peletiah*³, *Luke*², *Luke*¹) son of Peletiah and Sarah (Parsons) Hitchcock, was born in Brookfield, Mass., March 7, 1744-5, and graduated at Harvard College in 1767. He married, Jan. 13, 1771, at Truro, Mass., Mrs. Achsah Jordan, daughter of Caleb and Priscilla (Allen) Upham of Truro, Mass. In the same year he was ordained colleague of Rev. Mr. Chipman of the second church in Beverly, Mass. and his ordination sermon was preached by his cousin Rev. Gad. Hitchcock. In 1780 he was dismissed from the church in Beverly at his own request. He was early a chaplain in the Revolutionary army and his picture is one of the prominent figures in Trumbull's painting of the surrender of Burgoyne of which event he was an eye-witness. He was 1st Chaplain of Col. Learned's regiment and was subsequently promoted to the chaplaincy of Gen. Patterson's brigade, retaining this position to the close of the war.

"During a furlough in 1780 Mr. Hitchcock preached for a few Sundays in Providence, R. I. for the First Congregational Society. After his return to the army he received an invitation to the pastorate which he finally accepted. He procured a substitute and was installed as pastor in October, 1783. Here the remainder of his life was passed in an active and fruitful ministry of twenty years.

He had the title of D. D., published several books and was a member of the society of the Cincinnati. His funeral sermon was preached by David Tappan, D. D. His epitaph reads: "Rev. Enos Hitchcock, D. D., born Springfield, Mass., Grad. Harvard College 1767, installed pastor of the Benevolent Congregational church and society in Providence, 1783. As Chaplain in the Revolutionary army he was respected and beloved by the immortal Washington. As minister of the Gospel he was eminent for piety, urbanity and charity. Zealous for general education he led the way to establish publick schools in Providence. Earnest for religion he gave more than six thousand dollars to the Benevolent Congregational Society, the interest of which is to be applied to the support of a learned and pious minister of the Congregational order. He died Feb. 26, 1803, æ. 57, and expiring said, 'I sleep in Jesus.'"

His widow, Achsah Hitchcock, died May 5, 180-, æ. 57 years. Their adopted daughter Martha Hitchcock Jordan, probably his step-daughter, died unmarried, May 12, 1803, æ. 25.

DR. GAD⁵ HITCHCOCK (*Gad*⁴, *Ebenezer*³, *Luke*², *Luke*¹) son of Rev. Gad and Dorothy (Angier) Hitchcock, was born, probably at Pembroke, Mass., Nov. 2, 1749. He graduated at Harvard in 1768, social rank 16 in a class of 42; became a member of the Mass. Medical society and was a surgeon's mate in 1775 in Col. John Thomas's regiment in the war of the Revolution. Thomas was promoted and John Bailey became colonel of the regiment. Dr. Hitchcock's application for a pension shows that he served in Colonel John Bailey's second Mass. Regiment till December when he was transferred to the hospital department at Roxbury and served till the last of May, 1776. In June he entered Col. Simeon Cary's regiment as surgeon and was soon appointed chief surgeon of General Fellow's brigade hospital in the Jerseys holding that important position till the end of his term of enlistment, February, 1777. He was placed on the pension roll March 23, 1818.

The day after Lexington Bailey hastened with his men to the fray, he was in the siege of Boston, helped in the fortification of Dorchester Heights which taught Howe that Halifax was safer than Roston, served in the campaign around New York, did valiently in the battle of Long Island, lost seven men at White Plains, crossed the Delaware with Washington on that historical Christmas eve, fought at Princeton and then hastened north and actively assisted Burgoyne to surrender, then took a hand at Monmouth, was at West Point July 31, 1780 and not far from there Sept. 26, when in his orderly books kept by William Torrey and still in a good state of preservation we read that "Treason of the blackest dye was yesterday discovered. General Arnold who commanded at West Point lost to every sentiment of honor, of private and public obligation was about to deliver that important post into the hands of the enemy. . . . His excellency, the commander-in-chief has arrived at West Point and is no doubt taking the properest measures to unravel fully so Hellish a plot." John Bailey was descended on his grandmother's side from John Otis who gave so many descendants to the great cause of American freedom. Dr. Hitchcock married, July 9, 1778, Sagie Bailey, daughter of Col. John Bailey of Hanover, Mass.

We quote from the records of Gad Hitchcock: "My beloved wife died Nov. 20, 1810 at 2 o'clock in the morning of a fever with which she had struggled upwards of three weeks in the 52d year of her age. She was born January the third in the year 1758. I was married July 9, 1778, consequently lived with my wife thirty-two years four months and eleven days. We had twelve children seven daughters and five sons.

At the time of her death, we had our eldest daughter married to Dr. Charles Macomber of Marshfield, our third daughter married to Dr. Calvin Tilden settled at Yarmouth, Cape Cod. Our eldest son married to Mary L. Thaxter the daughter of Dr. Thaxter of Abington. . . . My wife was the daughter of Col. John Bailey of Hanover. Dr. Thaxter's wife was the daughter of Gen. Benjamin Lincoln of Hingham. . . .

My son Henry James Hitchcock died of yellow fever at New Orleans, Mississippi River after five days illness, on the tenth of November, 1826, when he was first mate of a large brig. . . . He was the youngest of twelve and the first instance of mortality amongst them. His father now in the seventy-eighth year of his age, worn down by a long series of troubles and perplexities and infirmities of age, has the mournful duty to make this record. . . .

Ebenezer Hitchcock died at sea on the Pacific Ocean, Jan. 8, 1829 in the twenty eight year of his age. . . . He was second mate of a whale ship that sailed from New Bedford about a year before his death.

Daniel Hitchcock, died August 2, 1831 at Hanson of a fever in the 41st year of his age."

This was the last record for he died Nov. 29, 1835, aged 86.

Dr. Hitchcock had an extensive practice. He was a courtly and dignified gentleman, expecting and commanding respect.

PRES. EDWARD⁶ HITCHCOCK, D. D., LL. D., (*Justin*⁵, *Luke*⁴, *Luke*³, *Luke*², *Luke*¹) son of Dea. Justin and Mercy (Hoyt) Hitchcock, was born at Deerfield, Mass., May 24, 1793. He married, May 31, 1821, Orra White, born at Amherst, Mass., Mar. 8, 1796, daughter of Jarib and Ruth (Sherman) White. In 1826 he was a special student of theology and science at Yale college under Professors Nathaniel Taylor and Benjamin Silliman; and from that institution had already received the honorary degree of A. M. in 1818. He was principal of Deerfield Academy 1816-19; pastor Congregational church at Conway, Mass., 1821-25; published Geology of the Connecticut Valley in 1824, leading to professorship of chemistry and natural history in Amherst College 1825-45. He was president of Amherst College 1845-54. He was appointed State geologist of Massachusetts in 1830, and in 1850 was sent by the State as special commissioner to visit, and examine, and report, upon the chief Agricultural Schools of Europe and was emeritus professor of geology in Amherst College till his death in 1864. Mrs. Orra

(White) Hitchcock died at Amherst, Mass., May 26, 1863, and President Edward Hitchcock died there Feb. 27, 1864.

From the biographical notice of President Edward Hitchcock read by J. P. Lesley, Aug. 9, 1866, at the National Academy of Sciences, we quote the following :

“Edward Hitchcock was born in 1793. His father was a small farmer who had learned the trade of a hatter, had fought in the Revolutionary war, and was a deacon in the Congregational church of Deerfield, a man of strong mind and steadfast piety, a genuine New England puritan.

“His mother was a high bred New England woman, of quick intelligence, pure heart and exquisite sensibility. The son was therefore born both to religion and science. The keys of the spiritual and of the physical worlds were hid beneath his pillow. . . .

. . . Such was Edward Hitchcock, one of the fathers of American Geology, and one who continued to the close of a long life to be an original investigator. A man of ardent fancy, impulsive, curious and credulous ; docile and teachable beyond any adult man of science I ever knew ; modest to a marvel ; yet, with all this, a man of sufficient self-reliance and determination for the most important practices of life, patient of difficulties, persevering and industrious for final success in any undertaking, sound in judgment and disciplined in temper, a friend to all, and a friend of all, his whole career laid claims to eminence, which would have been pre-eminence in American Theology, had it not been for his devotion to the ecclesiastical and financial interests of the college, which he saved from premature decay, and refounded upon the deliberate sacrifice of his own ambition.”

From the sermon delivered at the funeral of Dr. Hitchcock by Professor W. S. Tyler, we make the following quotations as illustrating some of the prominent features of his life :

“Dr. Hitchcock created the materiel and the reputation of Amherst College in the Department of Natural History. . . .

“He had naturally great physical strength and powers of endurance ; and though by overtaking his prodigious powers by more prodigious exertions, he early impaired his health and strength, still down to the last years of his life, few could climb mountains or break rocks with him—few could endure so much fatigue as he on a geological excursion. . . .

“Quick and accurate observation of nature was, of course, the foundation of his scientific discoveries. He was also a sharp observer of men and things. His judgment of character, like his interpretation of natural phenomena, was quick and seldom erroneous. He had the originality and creative power which belong to genius. He was made for a discoverer, for an originator of new ideas, new theories, new methods, new measures. He was tall enough to see over the heads of other men, and catch the first dawning beams of a new day. He had more faith than most men, in new discoveries. This believing disposition sometimes welcomed a premature announcement or a fabrication even, like the celebrated moon-hoax; but it expected great things, attempted great things and achieved great things for science. It wrought miracles in the scientific world. As a Christian philosopher, he welcomed every discovery in Geology and the physical sciences, never doubting, that they would not only harmonize with, but illustrate and confirm the Sacred Scriptures. Ichnology, as a science, began, and as yet may almost be said to end, with him. He was the originator of the State Scientific Surveys. The American Scientific Association sprang from his suggestion; and he was its first president. His originality in starting new doctrines, and new arguments in Natural Theology, is seen in instances too numerous to mention. His mode of answering the objection to the Resurrection of the body, his proofs from Geology of the general benevolence of God, of special providence, and of special Divine intervention in nature, and his Telegraphic System of the Universe, may serve as examples. He possessed in a remarkable degree that power of rapid and wide generalization, by which the fall of an apple suggested to Newton the law of universal gravitation. Taught by a few terraces on the hill-sides, he could reconstruct the Connecticut Valley at each successive geological epoch of its existence; and guided by a few foot-marks in the sandstone, he could re-people it with its various orders and tribes of primeval inhabitants. If he had not been a great geologist and naturalist, he would have been a great astronomer and mathematician. The question, which he should be, turned, not on the faculties with which he was endowed, but on the accident, or rather the providence of his impaired health and eyesight.

“His labors have shed lustre on the country that gave him birth, and have made the Connecticut Valley a classic land, whither men of science from all nations must go on pilgrimage, if they would see the-best ichnological cabinet in the world, and indeed the only one that deserves or claims that distinctive name. And as they visit that cabinet, and the other scientific collections and buildings on this consecrated eminence, under the name of Edward Hitchcock, they will read the inscription: si monumentum quaeris, circumspice." . . .

"If in the greatness and the variety of his talents and attainments, he was no unworthy representative of the wise man of the Scriptures, so was he in the consecration of all those talents and attainments to the highest and best ends. It was his mission to illustrate, in his life as well as by his tongue and his pen, the beauty and harmony of the connection between science and religion. He is dead; but his memory lives. His influence lives and will live forever. He is gone from us. But his works do follow him. His character and his writings remain to bless the world."

The literary character of his life may be partially judged of by a simple enumeration of the number of articles, pamphlets, and volumes written by him between the years 1815 and 1863. These were: 24 distinct volumes, 35 separate pamphlets and sermons, 80 newspaper articles, and 94 papers in the magazines of the day.

APPENDIX.

EDWARD HITCHCOCK. son of ———, b. ———; m. 1st, as early as 1638 since the birth of his first child Mary was recorded in New Haven in 1639; m. 2d, May 20, 1656, at Branford, Ct., Frances, widow of John Inland of England, who had died Nov. 30, 1655, leaving no children. From Mr. Judd's manuscript, "After the death of Edward which occurred probably in the latter part of 1657, his widow married, Sept., 1663, Thomas Johnson, by whom she had one son Thomas, b. July 11, 1664. Edward was in New Haven in 1643, when he was bapt. by the Rev. John Davenport in right of his wife, Dec. 15, 1644." He in company with Luke Hitchcock took the freeman's oath July 1, 1644.

From the records of the colony and plantation of New Haven from 1638 to 1649: "Edward Hitchcock fined for want of flint, Jan. 4, 1643." "Nov. 2, 1642, Ct., ordered that Matthew Hitchcock shall either pay 20 s. to Mr. Perry, which he undertooke in the behalf of his brother, or else sell so much of his brother's goods as will satisfie the said debt."

HIS CHILDREN WERE:

- i. MARY, b. Feb. 2, 1639; m. Oct. 12, 1663, Ralph Russel. He d. in 1679, when she m. 2d, Dec. 29, 1679, John Potter as his second wife.
- ii. JOHN, b. 1643.
- iii. SAMUEL, b. Sept. 22, 1646.
- iv. JOSEPH, bapt. Jan. 16, 1648; did not share in the distribution of his father's estate; probably d. before his father.
- v. ABIGAIL.

From Colonial Records of New Haven, 1649-1662.

"Court held Jan. 4, 1658. Inventory of the estate of Edward Hitchcock deceased, taken Nov. 23, 1658, attested by the widow Frances. Deacon Miles and John Cooper took oath that the inventory was just, etc. The widow says that something tending to the nature of a will was expressed to Matthias Hitchcock and Edward Patterson a little before his death."

" Ct. held April 5, 1659. Frances, widow of Edward Hitchcock, with Matthias Hitchcock and Edward Patterson, testify that Edward Hitchcock when sick, said he intended to give his wife's kinswoman Elizabeth Perry, a child's part. Ct. so ordered."

" Ct. held May 3, 1659. John and Samuel, sons of Edward H— deceased, propounded for liberty to choose their guardian. John, the eldest, nominated Samuel Andrews, but the Court advised him to take advise of Deacon Miles and of Ensign Linden and of any other of his friends in this matter. Samuel was thought not to be at age, therefore the case concerning both of them was respited until another time."

" Ct. held May 11, 1659. On testimony of Frances, widow of Edward Hitchcock, as to change in estate, a new inventory was taken, amount £185-10s-9d. Deacon Miles appraiser, testified as to correctness etc. Property divided among the widow, Frances, John, the eldest son, whose share was by his consent committed to Ensign Lindon; Mary, eldest dau., Abigail, whose share was at her desire entrusted to Sergeant Munson; Samuel was not of age to choose a guardian, and his share remains under the care of the Court: and Elizabeth Perry, a Kinswoman of the widow."

Oct. 4, 1659 (See Day Book 3).

" Ct. held Feb. 7, 1659. John Thompson Jr., called to show by what right he held Samuel Hitchcock as his servant. John Thompson confessed he had no indenture but affirmed an agreement between his father and himself that Samuel Hitchcock should serve him seven years as an apprentice, and that he was to teach him to read and write and Arithmetic & he was to go to sea & he to learn him to do his labor at sea, & when he had been with him three years he was to have liberty of a barrel of freight without charge, which agreement (he sd) was witnessed by Mr? Bower and wife. Mr. Bower testified that at three years ago Edward Hitchcock and John Thompson came to his house and desired him to hear terms of an agreement which he could not remember distinctly but etc—He adds practical part of navigation to be taught—serve three or four years & then receive freight to amount of a barrel in all voyages, E. Hitchcock 40s to put him in clothes & his master to keep him in cloths all the time.

Samuel Hitchcock said that his father when sick said he was glad he had so good a place & that if he died he was to stay seven years. Court said the relation was imperfect and asked after John Thompsons part, who said Samuel Hitchcock could read pretty well & was learning to write but denied that he promised to teach the art of Navigation but only to do his labor at sea & to coast & rig a vessel. Mr. Bower could not remember. The Court declared there was no writing & no agreement proved, but that he must expect that he being upon a voyage to England, the Court be satisfied that the conditions were in a probable way to be fulfilled concerning which he is to give account at the next court." (The last sentence is very difficult to decipher.)

"Ct. held March 6, 1659. (same case) Edward Pattisons testimony given. Court thinks there might be such an agreement & asks John Thompson how he intends to improve the remaining four years according to agreement—inasmuch as he himself was bound for England. John Thompson replied that he intended to take Samuel H—— with him, Court said that it would not be allowed on another man's ship. Court ordered that John Thompson should retain Samuel Hitchcock until this time twelve month for help of his wife in his absence provided the terms &c are carried out."

DAVID HITCHCOCK, a possible descendant of Edward of East Haven, born in 1704 and died in 1805; migrated from Connecticut and settled in Sing Sing, Westchester Co., N. Y., he had eight children, John, Joel, Jeremiah, Samuel, Abraham, Polly, Rachel and Betsey. Of these children, John was a Tory and went to Nova Scotia where his descendants are still living. Samuel, son of David, was born in 1760 and died Oct. 4, 1829. He was a Revolutionary pensioner until his death, entering the service in March, 1776 "in for and during the war under Capt. Jacob Wright in the 2d New York commanded by Col. Philip Van Cortlandt," and was with his regiment at the battles of Stillwater, Monmouth and Yorktown, where he was present at the surrender of Lord Cornwallis. At the close, of the war he settled in Watervleit, now West Troy, N. Y., where he had children: 1, Jeremiah; 2, James; 3, Isaac; 4, Rachel; 5, Nicholas; 6, Joel.

Abraham, son of David, was born in 1760, perhaps twin with Samuel. The two brothers married sisters who came from Holland in 1781. He was a Revolutionary pensioner having "served his country as bargeman of the Ferry maintained between Stony and Verplanck's Point for the use of the American army and its friends." He remained in Sing Sing where he was born.
